'1900 MILIUS' . . . owner Oscar, parader Christine Coffee, 'Susie.'

Even Henry Wouldn't Know This Old Ford If He Saw It

By DEAN TERRILL
Southeast Nebraska Bureau
Fairbury — Even Henry would have trouble identifying this Ford.

High schoolers would call it customized; antique purists would claim it's corrupted, but Oscar Milius simply says it's "about the most fun I ever had."

Especially when he raises a fellow hobbyist's eyebrow by tagging the auto a "1900 Milius."

Keep 'Em Guessing
"I like to keep 'em guessing," confessed the former Fairbury mayor. "I let them wonder awhile before explaining that the body is strictly my own conception of a 60-year-oldster."

A longtime blacksmith and implement dealer, Milius seized upon a half-rotted 1916 Ford to begin satisfying his "urge of many decades."

Now only the wheels, radiator and hood betray the finished product's Model T parentage.

"I built in an old buggy seat, and have no idea what the oversize brass headlamps and generator came from," he continued. "The back end was dressed up with brass rails that never saw a car before. I think they came from a hotel."

Economy Hybrid

Admittedly, it was economy that dictated the auto's hybrid background. But its homemade uniqueness has literally stolen the show—there are ribbons to prove it—from much costlier restored cousins.

Illegitimate or not, the black-and-maroon beauty brightened half a dozen parades this summer. Invariably tagging alongside was Susie, the family dog which mysteriously shares its master's love for the old flivver.

In top running shape since its owner-designer rebuilt the engine, the vehicle has headed right down the highway for several of its parade dates. It frequently doubles as a second family car.

"We'd be ready to leave for California tomorrow," the Fairburian declared. "Nobody can dispute that this is the best 1900 Milius in the country."

Journalistic Society To Keep Greek Name

Tulsa, Okla. (AP) — Delegates to the annual convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, voted overwhelmingly to retain the Greek letter name of the organization.

No vote was announced, but observers said it appeared only a handful of delegates favored the proposal to change the name to the Society of American Journalists. The vote was a standing ballot.

His nearly two years in office have given him a chance to work with the people of the various agencies, he said.

Morrison noted he had "leaned heavily" two years ago on former Sen. Otto Lieberman of Lincoln, 1959 chairman of the legislative Budget Committee.

Rely On Testimony
This time, he said, he will "rely primarily on the tax commissioner's office and testimony introduced on behalf of the budget and all evidence bearing upon budgetary needs so I can make up my own mind with reference to the recommendations to be submitted to the Legislature for their consideration."

Morrison said he thought a salary increase probably was the primary reason for many hikers in budget requests, and said also, "It's a very rare government agency, at any level of government, that thinks it doesn't need as much money as it gets."

This applies to all levels of government, he said, local, state and federal.

Spending Requests Surprise Morrison

. . . 'THEY'LL BE CUT'

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Gov. Frank Morrison said Thursday he was "surprised" the total 1963-65 budget request from state agencies "is as high as it is," and added that "of course, the budget requests will be cut—it's a question of how much."

Morrison made the comment when State Tax Commissioner Forrest Johnson presented him with the consolidated budget request from all state agencies. It now totals $375,628,459—up almost $3 million from the preliminary figure reported Wednesday, and $45 million over the 1961-63 total.

The final figures available Thursday did not see a any change, however, in the property tax-supported general fund requests reported earlier. They total $103.3 million—up 29% over the $80.6 million appropriated for the current biennium.

Wants Evidence

Commenting in reference to individual budget requests, Morrison said it would be "very presumptuous" on his part to "prejudge" any request "until I've heard the evidence."

He will hear the evidence beginning the week of Nov. 26 when Johnson has scheduled a full week of hearings for each agency to appear before the governor.

Asked if he planned to use any different procedure on hearing the budget requests in comparison with two years ago, Morrison said he was in a "little different position (now) having been governor for two years."

St. Joe Police Arrest Range In Superior Slaying

St. Joseph, Mo. (UPI) — Police arrested William Bert Range, 32, Thursday night in connection with the robbery and killing of a filling station attendant north of Mankato, Kan.

Police here acted on a felony-murder warrant issued by the Jewell County sheriff's office in connection with the shooting of station attendant John Maxwell, Aug. 7, south of Superior, Neb.

Range was traced to St. Joseph after the Kansas Bureau of Investigation notified authorities here he was in the company of a pregnant woman.

Police located the woman in a St. Joseph hospital and traced Range to an apartment where he was taken into custody.

Range signed a waiver of extradition to Kansas, police said.

Nation's Leaders Endorse Tax Slash . . .

GREATER CUT URGED

FAST ACTION ADVOCATED

. . . To Spur Production, Create Jobs

Washington (AP)—A conference of 170 industry, union and civic leaders overwhelmingly endorsed Thursday President Kennedy's proposal for a quick and substantial tax reduction.

After two days of discussion, an expanded meeting of the President's labor-management advisory committee came up with a majority conclusion that the tax cut should be permanent and should emphasize lower personal income tax rates, with corporate rate reductions on a smaller scale.

The figures mentioned were higher, in many cases, than the $6 to $8 billion in tax reduction which has been unofficially mentioned as under consideration.

Many participants, on both the management and labor sides, recommended figures of $10 to $15 billion as being appropriate for the desired stimulus to jobs, production, and business expansion.

But $10 billion or somewhat less seemed to be the average.

The session was an expanded meeting of the advisory committee which is made up of 7 members each representing industry, labor and the public.

To facilitate discussion, the group was split into 6 panels of more than 20 members each. The working sessions were behind closed doors, but each panel chairman reported the consensus of his group to a combined session late Thursday.

Nearly All Approve
All but a handful of participants, it developed, felt that tax reduction in 1963 is the proper policy to spur the sluggishly rising rate of national output.

Few raised the objection—heard from some Congress members—that a tax cut would worsen an already serious federal deficit, $7.8 billion in this fiscal year.

Labor spokesmen, as expected, generally favored concentrating the whole cut or most of it in the personal income tax, as a stimulus to consumer buying.

Industry representatives generally felt corporate rates also should be reduced.

Separate Snows Hit

By The Associated Press

Separate snow storms hit northern New England and northern sections of the mid-continent with traffic hampering blows Thursday.

A ship-crippling storm with winds that reached hurricane force at the center over the North Atlantic plastered eastern Maine with up to 17 inches of blowing and drifting snow.

Another snow storm spread from northern Colorado through Wyoming, western Nebraska, the Dakotas and into western Minnesota. The fall reached 3 inches in Cheyenne, Wyo.

A Trailways passenger bus skidded over on its side during the storm on U.S. 160, about 12 miles northeast of Pagosa Springs, Colo. several persons were injured.

Bangor, Maine, had 17 inches of snow on the ground, 8 inches falling during the morning. Northerly winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour caused drifting and blowing.

★ ★ ★ SNOW PELTS WEST, NORTH; 4 IN. AT SIDNEY

Most of the Panhandle received some snow Thursday, with Imperial reporting an official two inches, Sidney and North Platte one inch.

Unofficially the fall was reported to have reached 4 inches north of Sidney.

Light snow fell at Lincoln, Chadron, Scottsbluff, Alliance, Ainsworth and North Platte. High winds were also reported around the state, some as high as 40 mph.

Lincoln precipitation totaled .29 inch.

Friday the forecast is for cloudy skies with scattered light snow or rain in east and central Nebraska.

Elsewhere in the state skies are to be partly cloudy as high temperatures range from near 40 east to near 30 central and back up to the 40s again in the Panhandle.

Thursday's state high was 53 at Omaha; Alliance, Chadron and North Platte shared the low of 30. Lincoln had 48 and 43.

—THANT RECEIVES NOTE—

Castro Warns Against Flights

United Nations, N.Y. (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro warned the United Nations Thursday night that Cuba would shoot down U.S. planes if they continue surveillance flights over his island. Top U.S. and Soviet diplomats then discussed his threat in a 3½ hour meeting.

Shortly after Castro's warning was delivered by Cuban Ambassador Carlos Lechuga in a note to acting Secretary General Thant, high sources disclosed that Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan was expected to arrive here Friday for more crisis talks.

Castro's note, according to highly reliable sources, warned that "an incident" would occur if U.S. planes continued low-level reconnaissance flights over Cuba, particularly around the now-dismantled bases for 42 Soviet missiles which have been shipped back to Russia.

Met Kuznetsov

Thant delivered the note to U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who then went to the Russian embassy in midtown New York for a meeting with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov at the latter's request.

Emerging from the talks, Stevenson said he and his deputy, Ambassador Charles W. Yost, had discussed the Castro communication with

James Stuart, Pilot Unhurt In Plane Crash

A prominent Lincoln businessman, James Stuart, and his pilot walked away unhurt from the wreckage of their light plane after it crashed 30 miles east of Colorado Springs during a heavy snow storm Thursday.

Stuart, president of the Stuart Investment Co. and the Stuart (radio) Stations, was en route from Lincoln to Colorado Springs on business.

United Press International said Wendell Johnson, pilot for the Stuart Investment Co., reported the $80,000 Beechcraft developed engine trouble and he was unable to reach his destination.

He pancaked the plane successfully, UPI reported, but it skidded on the snow-slick turf and dropped into an 8-foot deep arroyo.

Stuart's business interests include the Stuart Building, KFOR radio in Lincoln and 5 other Midwestern radio stations.

Indians Open Offensive

. . . FIRST MAJOR DRIVE AGAINST REDS

New Delhi, India (AP) — Indian forces have opened their first major offensive of the undeclared Himalayan border war with Red China, killing an unknown number of enemy troops entrenched in the northeast sector, the defense ministry reported Thursday.

A Red Chinese broadcast heard in Tokyo said, however, the attacks — made under heavy artillery fire — were being repulsed by communist troops still holding their positions.

"Fierce fighting was still in progress up to Thursday morning," the Peking broadcast said.

An Indian defense ministry spokesman said the attacks were carried out on Chinese positions near Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border.

The spokesman said a smaller attack was carried out Wednesday by an Indian patrol on Chinese forces holding a village outside of Jang, near the Bhutan border and about 300 miles west of Walong.

There had been fears the Red Chinese could use their positions at Walong and Jang as jumping off points for possible drives down into the plains of the Indian state of Assam.

A lull in the fighting continued in Ladakh on the northwestern front in the war over disputed border territories in the Himalayas. The Chinese had moved up tanks and reinforcements there in preparation for what appeared to be a major thrust.

Unable To Say

The defense ministry spokesman said he was unable to say whether the arms used by the Indians in the new attacks were from supplies sent hurriedly by the United States and Britain.

The emergency shipments flowed into India by jet transport planes all last week.

The Peking broadcast said the Indians fired 700 shells at Red troops in the Walong area and that 1,000 Indian troops made repeated attacks on Chinese frontier guards under cover of heavy artillery fire.

"The Chinese frontier guards were compelled to take resolute action in self-defense and repeatedly repelled the attacks of the aggressive Indian troops," the broadcast said.

Prime Minister Nehru, meanwhile, was reported to have sent his official reply to a Chinese offer to withdraw troops in the northeast sector if the Indians would concede 15,000 square miles of territory claimed by Peking in Ladakh.

CHRISTIAN HERTER

Herter Will Lead Trade Negotiation

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy Thursday picked former Secretary of State Christian A. Herter as his chief negotiator in cutting import duties under a new international trade law enacted by Congress this year.

The law authorizes tariff cuts up to 50% in most imported items and provides for their outright abolition in some cases. Such reductions should be granted for similar concessions by countries to which the United States exports.

Kennedy, announcing his intention to appoint Herter to the newly-created post, said he will thus become "one of the top policy officials of the United States government in shaping and achieving our international objectives in the commercial, trade and economic fields."

Herter is a Republican with a long background of diplomatic and economic experience.

In selecting him the President apparently sought to allay in advance qualms already expressed by some Republican lawmakers at the course this country may follow in its effort to boost world trade through reciprocal tariff reductions.

Crew Abandons Ship; 18 Tossed Into Ocean

Hamilton, Bermuda (AP) — Crewmen abandoned a burning Greek freighter in the storm-tossed Atlantic Thursday night as flames swept near her cargo of high explosives. Rescue ships picked up 7 men but said one lifeboat capsized and they had lost sight of the other 18 crewmen in the water.

All 18 reportedly wore life jackets. Other rescue craft were bearing down on the scene, 300 miles northeast of Bermuda, to join in the search. The temperature of the water was reported to be 74 degrees.

Messages to the Coast Guard from the scene indicated the Freighter Trinity Navigator had picked up 5 crewmen of the abandoned ship, the Captain George. The tanker Virginia rescued two from the capsized boat. One of the rescued crewmen was said to have possible rib fractures.

The Captain George, reported carrying more than 100 tons of explosives, was rocked by an explosion Wednesday night. From that time until the ship was abandoned, Capt. George Karemezis and his crew of 24 fought fire in a gale that tossed the ship about with 30 to 60-foot waves.

The crew heaved part of the dynamite cargo overboard before taking to the lifeboats.

Barnett Prosecution Ordered

U.S. Appeal Court Acts

Governor Is Named In Meredith Case

New Orleans (UPI) — A Federal Court Thursday ordered the Justice Department to file criminal charges against Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr., for attempting to bar Negro James Meredith from the University of Mississippi.

In a 6-1 decision, the Barnett U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals ordered Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy to bring criminal contempt charges against the two state officials for defying court orders that Meredith be admitted to the school.

It was the first time criminal action has entered the maze of legal cases surrounding the 29-year-old Air Force veteran's attempt to break the color barrier at the school.

The criminal contempt charges would open the way for the two state officials to be punished for allegedly disobeying the desegregation order.

Barnett and Johnson already have been found guilty of civil contempt.

The criminal action was ordered pressed to punish them for allegedly not complying in the first place.

The court said that "documentary evidence already adduced" in the civil contempt proceedings made it clear that court action should be instituted "to determine whether they are, or either of them is, guilty of criminal contempt of the orders of this court."

Meredith was blocked by Barnett and his aides 4 times before he finally succeeded in entering the university. He registered as a student on Oct. 1 following 14 hours of bloody rioting in which two were killed.

2 Ships Rush To Help Jap Vessel Hit By Swordfish

Tokyo (AP) — Two vessels rushed to the assistance Friday of a Japanese fishing vessel which sent a distress signal saying she had been speared by a swordfish and was taking water.

The Maritime Safety Agency here reported Friday the 39-ton Genyo Maru, with 15 fishermen aboard, sent this message from a point 440 miles south of Wake Island:

"A swordfish speared the engine room which began leaking water . . . pumping out water but the volume of water is increasing."

Two other Japanese fishing vessels nearby hurried to help, the agency added.

OKINAWA WATCHFUL

Typhoon Expected To Veer To North

Agana, Guam (UPI) — Typhoon Karen hovered menacingly close to the U.S. military bastion of Okinawa Thursday as the death toll here rose to 8 and rescuers fixed the damage estimate at $200 million.

The typhoon warning station at Fuchu, Japan, predicted that Karen will veer off northeastward and miss Okinawa. The storm was whirling in that direction at 20 miles an hour with center winds estimated at 115 miles an hour.

The typhoon struck Guam Sunday with 200-mile-an-hour winds, razing 90% of the islands' buildings.

Guam resembled a rubber heap. U.S. government officials estimated the cost of rebuilding and repairing military and other federal property will be $50 million, and another $160 million will be needed to repair civilian property.

Evans Guilty In Enders Stickup

Omaha (AP)—A Federal Court jury late Thursday found Charles William Evans, 37, of Denver, guilty of participation of the $23,000 robbery of the Enders State Bank last April 14.

Sentencing was expected Friday.

Evans had been identified by Richard Davis, 38, of Denver, as a participant in the holdup. Davis earlier pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 15 years.

Bank employees also had identified Evans as one of two gunmen in the holdup. Davis was the other gunman in the bank.

Evans took the stand early Thursday to deny he had taken part in the holdup. He said that when he found out that the bank was going to be robbed he left the holdup car on the outskirts of Enders.

He and Davis were arrested in Colorado soon after the holdup car had been spotted by a searching airplane pilot.

Berlin's Defense Pledged

Washington (UPI) — President Kennedy and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer wound up two days of intensive cold war talks Thursday by pledging that the freedom and accessibility of West Berlin will be defended by all available means.

In a communique issued at the conclusion of their final 45-minute meeting in the White House, Kennedy and Adenauer declared they "examined the opportunities which might arise in the future to clarify unresolved questions and to better insure peace."

"The freedom and viability of Berlin will be preserved in all circumstances and with all means," the communique said.

Adenauer earlier told the National Press Club he thought Kennedy's vigorous reaction to the missile threat in Cuba had surprised Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and may cause the Russian to revise his Berlin attitude.

In the communique, the two men said only that they had considered events relating to Cuba "and their effect both on the general situation and the problems of special interest to the two countries."

They said their discussions included contingency planning for West Berlin, the general subject of East-West relations, political and military matters pertaining to NATO, and developments relating to the economic and political integration of Europe.

They agreed that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "continues to be the basis for the maintenance of freedom and that for the future every appropriate means must be employed to strengthen the alliance and to promote the cooperation of its members."

But there was no specific reference to Adenauer's desire that NATO forces in Europe be equipped with medium-range ballistic missiles under multilateral control.

News Conference Next Week Likely

Washington (UPI) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Thursday it was "almost certain" that President Kennedy will hold a news conference next week, probably Wednesday. It will be his first since Sept. 13.

India's Fighters Are Confident

... THEY EXPECT TO TURN BACK RED ARMY

EDITOR'S NOTE: United Press International Correspondent Michael T. Malloy was among a group of newsmen who toured India's northeast frontier agency. In the following dispatch, which was subject to military censorship, he describes Indian military preparations for any new Chinese communist offensive.

By MICHAEL T. MALLOY

Se La Pass, India (UPI)—Indian troops, dug in along this 14,000-foot high pass, are bracing for one more Communist Chinese offensive before the onset of winter.

Combat officers say they are confident that this time the Red army will be turned back.

"We've got the terrain on our side and this time we're prepared," a bearded Sikh unit commander told visiting newsmen.

The communists also are making preparations, according to reports brought back by patrols that slip forward nightly from Indian lines to check on Chinese deployments.

More Concentrated

More Red soldiers are reported concentrating 8 miles north of here at the Towang Monastery, which the Chinese captured Oct. 23.

Chinese engineers have been rushing completion of a road from their border to Towang. Indian officers believe the Reds then will bring in artillery. Until the road is finished, the communists will be armed with weapons no heavier than mortars and light pack howitzers transported by mule trains.

Indian gunners have been reminding the enemy of this deficiency by firing smoky high explosive shells every few hours into the no-man's land between the two lines.

The harmless-appearing firing has a deadly serious purpose. Forward observers want to mark the exact range of Indian weapons protecting approaches and thus set up death traps on unoccupied ground when the Chinese attack.

Tortuous 8 Miles

For the Reds to advance 8 miles from Towang to this pass, they will have to fight across some of the most difficult terrain in the world.

Many of the defenders have been on the front line since the northeast frontier agency border campaign began Oct. 20.

The bearded, turbaned Sikhs especially are eager to avenge the deaths of comrades who made up most of the casualties on the first day of fighting.

An officer noted that no Chinese soldiers have been taken alive. "They do not like to be taken prisoner," he said.

University Gains Moot Court Final

St. Louis (AP)—The University of Nebraska and Washburn University of Topeka, Kan., gained the final round of the regional moot court competition Thursday with victories in the second and 3rd rounds.

Nebraska defeated the host team, Washington University of St. Louis, and Louisville (Ky.) University. Washburn won from St. Louis University and Kansas City University.

The finals will be held Friday afternoon and will be heard by the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals.

In other second round competition, Kansas City defeated South Dakota University, and Louisville eliminated Kentucky University.

Saturn Ready For 3rd Test

Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP) — The launch crew made final preparations Thursday for an attempt Friday to fire the mammoth Saturn space rocket on its third test flight.

The 162-foot-tall Saturn. An early model of the rocket which will boost American spacemen to the moon, is scheduled to blaze aloft in mid-day on the massive 1.3 million pounds of thrust generated by 8 engines.

Only the first stage will be tested on the brief up-and-down flight. Major difference between this and the two previous Saturn flights is that Friday's rocket will carry a full fuel load in the booster stage — 375 tons compared with 310 tons on the earlier firings.

Two dummy upper stages will be filled with 23,000 gallons of water for ballast. As a bonus scientific experiment, the Saturn will be blown up deliberately after first stage burnout.

Purpose of the detonation will be to further evaluate what happens when 95 tons of water suddenly is dumped into the ionosphere. A similar experiment on the second Saturn test flight last April resulted in formation of a cloud of ice particles 5½ miles across.

RS70's First Trial Delayed

Washington (AP) — The Air Force announced Thursday at least a 3-month delay in the first flight of the experimental 2,000-mile-an-hour RS70 bomber because of technical problems.

That will delay it until next March or April.

The brief announcement came as the Air Force was awaiting a decision by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on whether to spend $191 million which Congress voted above Kennedy administration requests to push development of the airplane as a reconnaissance-strike weapon.

The first flight of the plane, designated the XB70 in its experimental form, had been scheduled for December.

The Air Force said it is being rescheduled "because of problems encountered in satisfactory sealing fuel cells . . . which will be subjected to the high temperatures" generated by flight at 3 times the speed of sound.

Gresham Bank Remains Short

Stockholders Still Trying

By GENE BUDIG
Outstate Nebraska Bureau
Stockholders of the Gresham State Bank have not been able to raise enough money to reorganize the bank, Ralph Misko said Thursday.

The state banking director added, however, that they have expressed an interest in reorganizing the bank with new capital.

Misko said he expected to decide by late Friday whether to give the interested investors a chance to get the bank operating again, or to place it in receivership.

His department uncovered shortages at the bank which have mounted to over $500,000.

Started with Death

The bank was then closed and taken over by the department after cashier Arthur Walford shot and killed himself when bank examiners appeared at Gresham.

Later, the bank's vice president, Harry I. Hylton of York, admitted in a signed statement that he and Walford knew of the funds being misappropriated dating back to 1931.

Misko related that he met with stockholders Wednesday night at his home in Lincoln. The stockholders had earlier expressed hope that they could raise the necessary capital to get the bank reorganized.

May Become Public

If the bank goes into receivership, the names on the misappropriated checks will become known as a matter of public record.

Otherwise, Misko has said he is not sure whether he will reveal the names.

The banking director said he hopes the bank will not have to go into receivership because of the time and expense involved in making banking facilities available again at Gresham.

Returns Hoped

Misko again expressed hope that depositors might ultimately receive from 50 to 75 cents on the dollar.

Controlling factors would be the ability to liquidate the assets and the amount and costs of litigation, he noted.

The Gresham bank was not a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which insures depositors against loss up to $10,000. Twenty-three other banks in Nebraska are without FDIC.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that...

NEBRASKANS were asked to contribute $19,312 in "war taxes" to the Federal Government. The people of this territory claimed the sum was far beyond their abilities to pay. So Congress released Nebraska from the obligation—and instead failed to appropriate $20,000 for the territorial legislative session of 1862-63.

Nowadays, the brewing industry in Nebraska contributes more than $10,000,000 annually in taxes, or 500 times more than the "war tax" of 100 years ago. This money helps support our schools, highways and parks.

TODAY in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Ask Buffer Zone Near Reller Court

Two subdivision developers near Merrill Reller's highway court at 4100 Cornhusker Hwy. have asked a 1,000-foot buffer zone of residential zoning be maintained west of 40th.

Ed Schmieding and Harmon Lawrence Murphy made this request before the City-County Planning Commission in connection with Reller's application for a special use permit for trailer court expansion.

Murphy said his clients did not object to court expansion provided requested buffer zones were retained.

The commission has deferred any action on the application because of pending District Court litigation between the city and Reller legality of the trailer court under the city zoning code.

Woman Hurt In Hit & Run; Driver Jailed

Mrs. Joy R. Westover, 29, of 624 No. 25th, was released after treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital for neck and back injuries sustained in a hit-and-run accident at 27th and O Thursday evening.

Police Thursday night were holding a 29-year-old man suspected of being the other driver involved in the rear-end collision.

The man was arrested at 27th and Randolph shortly after the accident by Officers Paul Spahn and Lyle Bigley when Officer Spahn spotted damage to the front end of the suspect's car.

Mrs. Westover's car and that of the hit-and-run driver collided at 27th and O about 6:30 p.m. Thursday. Mrs. Westover, westbound on O, was waiting for the light at 27th to change.

Norman Luedtke of the Lincoln Hotel, who witnessed the accident, told The Star that the hit-and-run auto came weaving from one lane to another west on O before hitting Mrs. Westover's car. After the collision, the hit-and-run driver backed away, turned around, and drove east on O to 28th, south on 28th to N, west on N to 27th, and south on 27th to M.

He was pursued that far by 1st Lt. Charles Kirkpatrick, 25, of 2545 Theresa, who had been turning left onto O from 27th just before the accident. Kirkpatrick is an officer of the 551st Strategic Missile Squadron at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Mrs. Westover, who was alone in the car she was driving, is the mother of William Westover, 7, one of 4 boys injured in a car-pedestrian accident at 25th and O on Oct. 11, 1961.

Judge Beals Accidentally Kills Himself

Taylor —An accidental gunshot claimed the life of Loup County Judge Ross Beals, 57, according to County Sheriff Charles Nekuda Jr.

The investigating officer said Judge Beals was found dead in his feed store. It was theorized that the judge's shotgun apparently discharged when Beals stepped in a hole in the floor as he prepared to use the gun to shoot a rat. The blast struck Beals in the face.

Judge Beals is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

2 Interstate Parts For Winter Use

Plans are to use two segments of the Interstate this winter even if bad weather should prevent their completion, Deputy State Engineer Gerald Strobel said Thursday.

He was referring to the Lincoln access road, slightly more than a mile in length, and the segment west from the Lincoln Air Force Base to Highway 15, a distance of about 12 miles.

If bad weather sets in, Strobel said, "we would be satisfied with using two lanes part of the 12-mile distance. We've asked the contractor to concentrate on getting the north lane shouldered so it could be used this winter."

He estimated that if weather remained favorable, the 4 lanes could be completed about mid-December.

Commenting on the Lincoln access road, Strobel said the contractor "is trying to give us something usable for the winter and give us some sort of connection into 9th and Oak Sts."

Patrol Questions Victim's Sister

Tekamah (AP)—The sister of a man fatally shot at Decatur was taken to Lincoln Thursday for questioning by Safety Patrol criminal investigators.

Burt County Attorney Fred S. Jack said Mrs. Dorothy French told authorities her brother, Ralph Patrick, 35, shot himself at his home Tuesday evening. Patrick died later in a Sioux City hospital.

Mrs. French said she was outside the house at the time the fatal shot was fired. Authorities said they have recovered the .22 rifle with which the man was shot. The bullet struck Patrick in the chest.

Jack said the brother and sister had been drinking prior to the shooting.

Mrs. French was held for investigation but not charged, Jack said.

Money Its Usual Problem

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

What a shame it is that the state of Nebraska is not an industry, especially a new one considering a location in this area. How welcome it would be if it wanted to spend more than $42 million on plant and people. But the state is not that kind of industry, even though it is a significant part of our economic picture, just as are the other governmental units with which we live. Government, however, differs from the usual kind of industry about which we speak by virtue of the fact that it is not profit-producing—it uses up rather than creates capital.

The role of government in our economy is a unique one and as such, its new spending plans are not always so welcome.

The Budget Requests

There will be little welcome, for instance, for the $42,292,712 hike in budgets as requested for all state agencies for the 1963-65 biennium. Included in the biennium now drawing to a close. Thus, if all budgets at the state level were approved as requested, taxes would go up substantially. The 28 per cent hike would be reduced only by whatever amount the state's valuation of property increased.

But valuation increases would still leave the tax hike well above 20 per cent. It will be noted, however, that these are just requests and they should not raise too much alarm. After all, units of government consistently ask for a lot more than they intend to receive.

There may be some truth in such an attitude but there are also dangers. There is no cause to be complacent about initial budget requests. While departments may not expect to get all they ask for, they seldom ask for much that they do not feel they need. Thus, department requests are a good measure of the needs of the state and in this respect, the large increases asked are disturbing.

What state departments want for the coming two years is more than a fourth again as much as they have had in the past two years. And the fact is that if departments were given any encouragement at all, even the requests would be substantially higher than they are. These budgets point up the kind of difficulty in which the Legislature will find itself in January and in which it has usually found itself in the past. These budgets do not even include many things that a lot of people would like to have undertaken by the state — things such as state aid to education and expanded state responsibility in many highway matters. Obviously, the Legislature is not going to give all departments everything they ask for, much less approve of everything suggested by sources outside the departments themselves.

Nuclear Free Zones

The suggestion that Latin America, including Cuba, be declared a zone in which nuclear weapons are barred, is one which if properly pursued could start the world toward a practical degree of disarmament.

It is also a proposal upon which the world's great adversaries could agree.

At the present writing Latin America does not need nuclear weapons. It has the guarantee of protection from the United States. It would also be fatal to hoped-for economic reforms should Latin America seek to divert its resources into the development of nuclear armament. It would only complicate the delicate problem of nuclear restraint.

Certainly the most acute concern of both the nuclear West and East is the spread of nuclear capacity and in this one

The size of budget requests, however, is a sign that this state is falling further and further behind in taking care of its needs. Many of the departments have presented certain budget increases as near-emergency measures, particularly in the area of new plant facilities. Large increases are shown throughout the four state teachers colleges and the University of Nebraska. In the case of these institutions, the big problem is one of faculty salaries, biting especially hard this year because of the Legislature's stringent budget of two years ago. The pattern of need is common throughout just about every department of state government.

All of these problems cannot be dismissed as bureaucratic dreams. Rather than dreams, they are concrete examples of the needs of this state. We shall not accomplish them all at once but it is hoped that we can begin sometime to make progress on them. We will not make progress when we continue with slight budget increases each two years in the face of staggering requests.

Nebraska prides itself on its lack of bonded debt and its freedom from some of the sources of income — taxes — that are enjoyed by other states. Perhaps these are areas of pride but they are also examples of the greater capacity of other states to meet their responsibilities. We speak of our highway progress but do so on a comparison with ourselves.

What we should be comparing ourselves with are other states, practically all of which have greater sources of revenue for highways than does the state of Nebraska. We do the same thing in education when we point out the progress we have made. We note our status 10 years ago and today and can show that things have improved but what we need to be doing is looking at the states around us to see if they have not moved at a much faster pace. Russia can show an economic record and advanced standard of living substantially higher than that of the United States for the last 20-year period but she is still a long way behind this nation.

If Russia looks only at herself, she has accomplished quite a bit but in comparison with the Western world, she has hardly left the starting gate. The state of Nebraska must look at the rest of the nation, just as Russia must be compared with the world, because that is where our competition is coming from. We cannot adopt arbitrary economic and governmental standards without regard for the rest of the nation if we want to share in the good fortune and prosperity of that nation.

finds one plane of cooperation in which each could join for the good of the world. If Latin America can be declared a nuclear free zone so can other areas and there are many of them that can be made subject to such a restriction. Not all may be willing but here is one area where discipline is justifiable.

The containment of nuclear power is the first step toward its diminution and the proper step toward worldwide inspection which ultimately can be applied to existing nuclear powers.

No accommodation between, for instance, United States and Russia to limit their own nuclear posture can expect to remain secure unless the whole world is made a party. Zoning will have to be applied and at this juncture it looks like the right place to start.

A Good Thing

Poland, according to the Christian Science Monitor, is experimenting with a free enterprise program in the field of industrial production for export.

It is withdrawing government subsidies from 34 factories, lightening the hand of central planning and putting the factories on a basis of "make it well, make it go, or go out of business."

This would make Karl Marx turn over in his grave. But the way the commies have modified his doctrines he is probably spinning anyway. Besides that, Poland has an alluring example in Yugoslavia which has long since demonstrated that free wheeling does the better job.

Indeed, free enterprise is one of the greatest bonanzas a government ever figured out. Take United States, for instance. Its gross national product surpasses $500 billion. This veritable boon keeps millions of workers gainfully employed, keeps thousands of executives lying awake nights figuring out how to make it bigger and better. Engineers and scientists wrack their brains for new and better things. The money rolls in. Who gets it? The people who do the thinking and the working get a big share. Then there is a profit. The government gets a big share of that. Then the stockholders share in what's left—a sum they plow back into the general economy buying the products of the system. A few thousand executives get handsome salaries for the few years they are able to lead the pack.

It all adds up to a net fee of probably a fraction of one per cent to create and distribute all that wealth.

No sane government would ever put and end to such a good thing, no more than any farmer would think of plowing a furrow if there were hands about who would relish doing the job faster and better for one per cent of the crop or less.

Prison For Addicts Cruel

The United States Supreme Court has refused to reconsider an earlier opinion stating that imprisonment of drug addicts constitutes cruel and unusual punishment. Presumably, this means that states and the federal government cannot give a prison sentence to persons found to be addicted to drugs. The ruling, it is assumed, would have no effect upon an addict who was also a pusher of the drugs.

There are few people who would argue with the merits of the court's decision but more is needed than just a humane consideration of the drug addict. It is not enough merely to decide that such people are not subjects for incarceration. If they are not to be incarcerated, what is to be done with them? It is equally cruel and unusual simply to let them roam at will.

Obviously, the answer is the establishment of facilities and ways of effectively dealing with the drug addict. They should certainly be removed from daily contact with other people because such associations only lead to further addiction. It is claimed, in fact, that addicts themselves are the greatest cause of spread in addiction, not professional dealers in illegal drug sales.

Little real progress has been made in the area of treatment of the drug addict. If there is to be a recovery, it is a painful process of denial and this is to inflict terrible punishment upon many addicts. If society is really interested in solving this problem, and it certainly should be, it is going to have to invest in an extensive research program. Drug addiction may disgust us but mere condemnation of the addict will not reduce the number or stop the spreading of this vicious evil.

Reuther-Meany Split Is Healed

WASHINGTON — The wide-open split in the AFL-CIO was averted at the last minute only after David Dubinsky, president of the Ladies' Garment Workers, Al Hayes of the Machinists, and Jake Potofsky of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers feverishly conferred with AFL President George Meany and CIO Leader Walter Reuther.

"I don't think Reuther will really walk out," grumbled Meany in the separate talk with these three leaders. "That's a lot of newspaper talk. However, I don't mind meeting with him if it means this much to you."

"Reuther and his people aren't engaging in idle threats," counseled Hayes. "They mean business. Feeling is running high. You and Reuther should forget your personal differences and get together before it's too late."

In one closed-door session of the AFL-CIO executive council, Meany had called Reuther a liar and they almost came to blows. However, when Hayes, Dubinsky and Potofsky spoke to Reuther, he immediately agreed to meet with his old critic.

"However," he added, "Meany must meet us halfway. The CIO can no longer tolerate his dictatorial tactics and his shocking disregard of agreements that were made when the merger constitution was approved. Meany violates the letter and the spirit of the constitution when he tries to tell us that we can't name a CIO man (Ralph Helstein) to fill a CIO vacancy on the executive council."

Reuther added that he had other grievances, including the AFL-CIO's "negligence" in organizing non-union workers; also Meany's opposition to Jim Carey of the Electrical Workers as one of Reuther's alternates in the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions.

Meany was tight-lipped but friendly when he met behind closed doors with Reuther in the first of the man-to-man conferences. At times he even appeared a bit conciliatory.

Reuther reminded the AFL-CIO boss about a meeting in Brussels at which Meany declared that Carey, an AFL-CIO vice president, was "unacceptable" to him as Reuther's ICFU alternate.

"I said then as you may recall, that Jim Carey was my alternate to the ICFU, not yours," remarked the United Auto Workers chief.

"Therefore, it really shouldn't matter if he is unacceptable to you as long as he is acceptable to me."

Meany didn't press the point, but he did dispute Reuther's contention that the AFL-CIO had become lax in organizing non-union employees.

Segregationists Turn Republican

WASHINGTON — Republican gains in the South were made by white conservative segregationists. Major Negro gains all over the country were made with one exception by liberal Democrats.

These aspects of the election will generate strong pressures in both parties and require careful consideration by their national strategists.

Perhaps their fast footwork will suffice in off-year elections for awhile but presidential candidates who must seek their electoral votes in 50 states will be required to take a firmer stance.

The problem is now to have Republicans who up to now have been a regionally oriented party where, in the northern industrial states, they could give lip service on the race issue and still prevail for they had nothing to lose in the South.

After the New Deal and Fair Deal broke that hold apparently for good they began to eye the South. Inevitably, considering the role played by the GOP in Congress and the liberal identification of Democratic presidents, Republican southern strength centered in the white conservative.

Now that strength is coming to the fore in real live members of the Senate and House. But what one pundit has called the union of corn belt and corn pone in today's Republican party can have only negative force, given the population spread and the electoral system.

Besides it has been accompanied by the election of Republican governors in Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania with a dividend of two

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Walnuts Poor, Pumpkins Plentiful

By MONA B. PARKER

The Blue Hill Leader had a few statistics on milo yields in that neighborhood that were following pretty closely the whole picture. Farmers there were in the milo fields this fall as soon as possible, spurred on by "memories of last year's crop covered by snow."

Irrigated fields are averaging around 120 bushels per acre. And dry land crops, hitting close to 90 bushels, are averaging less only because the seed was planted farther apart.

Corn is not too far behind, accordingly. Some test plots have put out well over 200 bushels, with the average for irrigated 172.8. One patch of dry land corn produced an amazing 187.6 bushels per acre.

Opines The Leader: "Secretary Freeman, your troubles are just started."

Mrs. Lester Eastwood, columnist for the Pawnee Republican, reports disappointment with the black walnut crop this year. She has compared notes with neighbors and all found the same thing — very few walnuts and those of little value. Those who study into such things say that growers should expect a crop only every other year, Mrs. Eastwood says. But "this does not quite agree with the theory of those who say that a good year for corn is a good year for a walnut crop."

However, she adds an encouraging note:

"If we can't have fudge with black walnuts this winter, we won't have any shortage of pumpkin pies. Anyone who planted pumpkin seed last spring has har-

A recent local football game in Ashland wasn't the most miserable Art Riedesel ever covered—just the second most miserable. The worst he described vividly as a November night in 1959 when there was snow on the ground. Even the Wahoo and Ashland players had to wear gloves. But at least his notebook paper stayed dry that night. The recent game that occupies No. 2 spot saw a downpour of rain beginning 20 minutes before game time. It also saw most fans, newsmen excepted, sitting in their cars.

vested a small mountain of the yellow fruit."

And there is plenty of something else this year — Osage oranges, or hedge balls—but she doesn't know anything that can be done with those.

A battle of words is shaping up between Al Darr of the Ord Quiz and Ed Krikac of the Comstock News. Mr. Krikac "was in complete sympathy with our efforts to point out that pumpkins are frequently used in nuptial decorative capacity, but rarely pumpoms. He struggles with the common error himself and usually to no avail.

Ord's Al Darr took him to task for using the word "espies," claiming improper usage. But the Quiz still insists that "pumpoms" are carried by bridesmaids and brides' mothers.

Declares Mr. Krikac: "If

I ever attend a wedding where the bride's father is carrying pumpoms, I'm going to run for an exit."

No newsmen is alone in his battle against the letter-switching gremlins that haunt the back shops. The Clarks News listed the place of employment of a local bride as being the Bank of Clarks.

"Her finance is employed in Denver."

Nebraska may lose the distinction of having the largest cottonwood tree in the nation. For some time Fort Kearney park had that tree, but no longer. John Westesen Jr. of Kearney has a pretty fair sized one whose circumference measures 20 feet at a height of 4½ feet, but it appears to be nosed out of the running by one in Michigan whose girth is 24 feet and 9 inches.

Federal School Aid

Lincoln, Neb.

On October 27, a letter signed "Pro Government" suggested that I did not want support for all church schools, only Catholic schools. My previous letter stated: "There is a real need not only for more public schools but for other accredited schools, be they Catholic, Lutheran or Adventist." I meant all church schools although I named only three. The writer went on to say: "Taxing one faith to support another is 'taxation without representation.'" The writer missed my point completely because Catholics want the benefit of their own tax dollars, not the tax money of others. This same "taxation without representation" however, is precisely what Catholics have been trying to make plain to their fellow citizens for the past 100 years.

Contrary to the intimation of "E. N." of Beatrice, Nebraska (October 16), the Catholic Church has always taught her children to be Christian without state aid and without seeking it. Moreover, it is the sacred right of parents, not the state, to choose the school they want for their children to obtain a "good education." Since, obviously, not all parents agree on how their children should be educated, their right can never be exercised within a single school system. The United States is a democratic, pluralistic society and parents should not be compelled to "choose" state-controlled schools in order to benefit from their tax dollar.

"Desirous of Peace" (October 18) asked who could attend parochial schools. The 7,000,000 American children deprived of their rights to equal education benefits attend them! Many Catholic children are turned away each year because their schools are filled to capacity; others can't attend because their parents cannot afford to send them due to the educational double standard. The writer also stated: "As long as we keep church and state separate, we live in peace and harmony." If most Americans really believe in complete separation of church and state in relation to their schools, where did the roar of protest come from when the Supreme Court banned prayer and Bible reading in the public schools? Historically there never was any such separation.

With the Supreme Court ruling, Protestants have suddenly found themselves in the same dilemma as Catholics. Some Protestants agree with the court's decision, along with most Jews and all Secularists. Other Protestants, realizing the dominant influence of the school in the lives of children, are greatly concerned. They believe, as do Catholics, that the negative influence of leaving God out of the classroom teaching makes Him seem less needed than the least important subject taught. In speaking of freedom of religion, the First Amendment did not mean freedom from religion and did not endow the illegitimate with rights not applicable to religious citizens, whatever sect, creed or faith. Should the Supreme Court decision be put into effect in the public schools, those who desire a purely secular education for their children will have it and with public support. Those of us who want for our children a God-centered education with public support are entitled to it, but we will not get it unless we write to our congressmen and demand our rights.

By Any Other Name

Guide Rock, Neb.

I have just read The Star report of Tuesday's Farm Bureau convention. Perhaps Star readers would be interested in an old Farm Bureau member's analysis of this meeting.

Of the 13,700 members of the present F. B. membership, probably only 5,000 were members of N.F.B. four years ago. (Farm Bureau membership has a turn-over of from 20 to 30% each year.) About 300 hard-core "brain-washed" members return to Lincoln for the N.F.B. convention every year in November. Along with them come about 30 new members who are unfamiliar with the ropes. This, then, is the "working apparatus" of the N.F.B. The new members may be a bit bewildered by the fact that all of their resolutions are "bad," but, thinking this a democratic organization, never suspect until two or three years later that they were prevented by the minority from representing the majority of farmers.

If, as Charles Marshall states, the potential N.F.B. membership is 42,000, this 5,000 hard-core of members can hardly represent Nebraska farmers.

I was interested in Tuesday's attempt by the Policy Development Committee to change the organization's name. Can it be that "Farm Bureau Federation" is getting to be such a dirty word in Nebraska that it now has to assume the alias of "Farm and Ranch Federation"? I think this is very probably the case. Any organization that consistently pats Rep. Ralph Beermann on the back for kicking the farmer, that consistently undermines the R.E.A., the A.S.C., the Farm Co-operatives, the Farmers Union, the N.F.O., the Grange, and attacks the federal government and any other pro-farmer organization can hardly be very popular with farmers.

While F.B. has been assailing these groups, their own "Farm and Ranch" stock valuation has dropped to 50 cents on the dollar! They have lost 6,700 old members in one year! Their members have less privilege of the ballot than the labor unions they attack! And yet they spend their convention time counting pheasants and bureaucrats and hope that a new name will enable them to perpetuate their insidious existence.

New Tax Legislation Designed To Eliminate Freeloading Practices

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Some taxpayers have been getting away with some fancy free-loading under the guise of tax-deductible expense accounts. The new tax law, effective Jan. 1, is expected to put a crimp in this practice. The following 3rd of 3 articles tells of the changes.)

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
New York (AP) — For years some taxpayers have been charging off the costs of yachts, hunting lodges and trips on tax-deductible expense accounts.

And they've been getting away with it, too, with the approval of the courts.

That's because the provisions of the old tax law were so vague.

But things are going to change, beginning Jan. 1. The Internal Revenue Service, acting under the tax law of 1962, has new regulations which will eliminate practices which internal revenue commissioner Mortimer Caplin calls "shocking to the conscience."

Examples Cited
In hearings on the 1962 tax legislation before the Senate Committee on Finance the IRS cited 70 examples of lavish activities which wound up on expense accounts and were wholly or partly allowed as deductions.

In one case — quite famous in tax collecting circles — the president of a firm and his wife went on an African hunting safari. The trip, which included stays in London, Paris and Rome, lasted 6 months.

Upon return, the business executive received considerable publicity as sponsor of the trip in newspapers and by the exhibition of motion pictures and hunting trophies.

He claimed a deduction of $16,818. The IRS cut it down to $1,200. But a court approved $16,443, holding that the taxpayer's primary intent in making the trip was to publicize his business.

Commissioner Caplin said that in recent years there has been much public attention directed to "a privileged class of individuals who practically live on expense accounts, including vacations and country club memberships."

"This," he said, "is a distasteful picture to millions of taxpayers who are paying their fair share of the tax burden, and tends to undermine confidence in our self-assessment system."

The new law will give the Caplin, "strikes at vagueness by imposing definite restrictions on certain types of expenditures."

The taxpayer will have to apply this test to his entertainment expenses:

Are they directly related to, or associated with the active conduct of your trade or business?

If so, the deductions will be allowed. If not, they will be rejected.

Means of Cracking Down
The new law will give the IRS a means of cracking down on deduction claims for lavish and extravagant entertainment expenses.

Business men with expensive hobbies — yachts, hunting trips, fishing excursions, etc. — are going to have to prove that more than 50 percent of the annual cost of these activities was directly related to or associated with business.

RIBS IN A CAN

ALL SMOKED — ALL SAUCED — ALL COOKED

Serve 'em in 20 minutes. And such ribs! No plebeian spareribs. They're not meaty enough. Instead, you get the royalty of the ribs — slim-boned Back Ribs, heavy with meat.

All smoked. For meat this good, only the best will do. So we use hickory smoke. A mellow drift of it.

All sauced. The Barbecue Sauce we use never saw the inside of any bottle. We concocted it, specially, from rare ingredients, including six exotic spices.

All cooked. Cooked slow and easy, so the savor of the sauce seeps into every morsel of the meat.

Nothing for you to do but put 'em in the oven for 20 minutes. (Never was a handier way to come up with handsome eating.)

A can serves 4. If you're looking for the cheapest ribs, forget ours. If you're hungry for the meatiest — come a-running!

A Variety Of Recipes From Our Holiday Kitchen

With Thanksgiving at hand, and Christmas in the offing, we decided to stress holiday fare, plus some quickies that will keep the family happy during the hectic days of shopping, preparing for guests and the dozen and one things which are included on the homemaker's daily calendar.

P.S. We have two stuffing recipes below—one very old—the other quite new. If any of the young cooks do not know how to prepare a turkey, let us know—we will give them the directions.

- FOR MUSHROOM-NOODLE STUFFING

  - 4 tablespoons chicken fat
  - 1 large onion, chopped
  - ½ pound mushrooms, sliced
  - Gizzard and heart of turkey, ground
  - 2 tablespoons parsley, chopped
  - ½ teaspoon instant meat tenderizer (seasoned)
  - 2 eggs
  - 4 cups cooked broad egg noodles (or farfel)
  - Freshly ground pepper
  - Heat chicken fat in large skillet; add onion and ground mushrooms and gizzard and heart; brown; remove from heat and add all remaining ingredients. Mix lightly, blending well.
- SESAME SEED STUFFING

  - 10 cups toasted bread cubes (croutons)
  - ½ cup instant minced onion
  - ½ cup toasted sesame seeds
  - 2 tablespoons parsley flakes
  - 2 teaspoons salt
  - 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
  - ½ teaspoon ground black pepper

- ½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine, melted
- 1 cup turkey stock or water
- Combine bread cubes (measured after toasting), instant minced onion, sesame seeds, parsley flakes, salt, poultry seasoning and black pepper. Mix well. Stir in melted butter or margarine and turkey stock or water. Mix thoroughly. Spoon into the crop and body cavity of a 10 to 12 pound turkey. Close openings with skewers. Lace tightly with a string. Roast, using your favorite method.

YIELD: Sufficient stuffing for a 10 to 12 pound turkey.

MELBA MUFFINS SUPREME

To favorite plain muffin batter, add 1 (9-ounce) can well drained crushed pineapple and 1 (10-ounce) package well drained frozen raspberries, thawed. Bake, then top while hot with pineapple or raspberry preserves. These delectable sweet muffins are perfect for a mid morning coffee party.

Who said vegetables are dull? Impossible when Mint Butter is added to fresh carrots and peas and almond butter to green beans. To ¼ cup melted butter, add 1 tablespoon fresh mint leaves. To ¼ cup melted butter, add 2 tablespoons chopped salted almonds and 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

A Pie To Remember

Christmas week is traditionally a time for hospitality—whether it be a tree-trimming party or just a get-together for the pure joy of the season. Whatever the occasion, hospitality should be homey—and nothing is more so than coffee and pie.

Luxury is the taste in the following recipe for pecan pie—richness of the season enhanced by the pecans which may be left whole, if desired. But using them sliced makes neater serving later. The pie is a good freezer—so make it early and store it away before the season's activities and excitement take too much time. Happy Holidays!

SPECIAL PECAN PIE

- 1 unbaked pastry shell, 9 inches
- 3 eggs
- ½ cup heavy cream
- ½ cup dark corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 3 tablespoons rum flavoring
- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 2 cups thinly sliced pecans, (two 3-oz. cans)
- Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry, flute edge and set aside. Beat eggs well. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 35 minutes, or until crust is browned and filling is slightly puffy. Cool, on rack, to room temperature before serving. (Filling will flatten a bit and become firm on cooling. If prepared long in advance, wrap in foil and freeze after cooling. When needed, bring out of freezer and let thaw to room temperature before serving.) Yield —8 servings.

Topping (optional, but oh so good!)

- ½ cup heavy cream, whipped
- Sugar to taste
- ½ teaspoon aromatic biters (about 4 good dashes)
- Blend whipped cream, sugar and biters together. Give a good dollop to each wedge of pie. Enuf said.

Give Cupcakes A Festive Air

Whether for a lunchbox surprise, for afternoon tea, or for serving to the members of your bridge group these handsome little cupcakes will have plenty of appeal to chocolate lovers. The frosting—richly flavored with new glazed chocolate chips—is an easy recipe to make, and one that will become a favorite with grown-ups and children.

You will find these new glazed chips a delight to work with because of their freshness, smooth texture and rich dark chocolate color... they make handsome decorations... and they will taste simply wonderful!

Mocha Cupcakes

- 1½ cups sifted cake flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- ¼ cup cocoa

- 1 tablespoon quality instant coffee
  - Milk
  - ½ cup shortening
  - ¾ cup granulated sugar
  - 1 egg, unbeaten
  - 1 teaspoon pure vanilla
  - Chocolate Frosting
- With butter, use ½ cup milk. With vegetable shortening, use ¾ cup milk.
- Measure sifted flour, add salt, soda, baking powder, and cocoa, and sift together. Dissolve coffee in milk.
- Cream shortening, gradually add sugar, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add vanilla. Alternately add flour and coffee-flavored milk in small amounts, beginning and ending with flour and beating until smooth after each addition.
- Spoon batter into paper baking cups set in muffin pans, filling each slightly less than half full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) about 25 minutes. Makes 20 to 22 cupcakes.
- Chocolate Frosting
- 1 cup glazed chocolate chips
  - ½ cup butter
  - ½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
  - 2 egg yolks
  - 3 tablespoons heavy cream
  - 2 tablespoons water
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - Melt chocolate over hot water. Then cool slightly. Cream butter and add melted chocolate. Add sugar gradually, blending well. Add egg yolks, cream, water, and vanilla. Beat until smooth and creamy. Chill until of right consistency to spread. Makes about 2½ cups, or enough to frost the tops of about 2 dozen cupcakes.
- Note: If desired, 5 tablespoons heavy cream may be used instead of heavy cream and water.

Every hostess likes to be first in the crowd to serve a party dish. Here's one to bring you fame. The very latest in party salads is a twin mold platter of Cranberry Buffet Jewels. Ruby red cranberry sauce is in one jellied layer and the other has a cottage cheese-pineapple base with a whisper of cinnamon. A tasty accompaniment for chicken a la King in Patty Shells.

Cranberry Buffet Jewels can be made the day before the party and stored in the refrigerator. Make the Chicken a la King ahead, too, then just reheat to spoon into flaky patty shells at supper time.

CRANBERRY BUFFET JEWELS

Lightly oil 2 1-quart molds.

Cranberry Layer:

WHAT'S FOR DINNER MRS. SKINNER?

SAUSA-RONI STUFFING

- 2 cups SKINNER Elbow Macaroni
- 1 lb. ground pork sausage
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup chopped green pepper
- ½ cup chopped celery
- 1 tsp. parsley flakes
- 1 tsp. garlic salt
- 2 tsp. poultry seasoning
- 1 egg, slightly beaten

Cook macaroni as directed on package. Meanwhile, brown crumbled sausage; drain off fat. Add onion, green pepper, celery, parsley flakes; brown slightly. Add seasonings, macaroni. Remove from heat; add beaten egg; mix well. (If dressing not as moist as desired, blend in another slightly beaten egg.) Salt inside cavity of fowl; pack dressing in cavity loosely. DAZZLING DEXOL BLEACH DRENCHES YOUR CLOTHES WITH LIGHT washes in the brightness and whiteness liquid chlorine bleaches wash away!

What makes brand-new clothes so bright? Fluorescers—tiny particles that reflect light like a million mirrors. Liquid chlorine bleaches destroy many of these fluorescers, yellowing new whites, fading deep colors.

But Dexol is different! Instead of destroying fluorescers—Dexol actually contains its own fluorescers that brighten clothes a little bit more with every washing. Whites become whiter than new, colors get brighter and brighter when you let dazzling Dexol drench them with brilliance. And Dexol's fluorescers work on any fabric—cottons, linens, wools, synthetics—even the silks you never dared bleach before. Because Dexol is safe—safe for all colors, for all your washable fabrics. Make Dexol a washday habit; it's the bright way to bleach.

... CONSUMERS OPERATION AT HALLAM

By DON WALTON
Satur Staff Writer

The $57 million Hallam nuclear power plant will be ready for operation on a commercial basis next July, Consumers Public Power District officials informed newsmen Thursday.

Tests at 15% of power (not enough to generate electricity) are expected to continue until after the first of the year, CPPD nuclear consultant Dr. Emerson Jones said.

Then, testing at 100% power will be undertaken until mid-1963, he said, preliminary to commercial operation.

Meanwhile, Consumers announced that the plant—the world's only sodium graphite nuclear power facility—will be open for public tours beginning next Monday.

Newsmen previewed the detailed tour facilities which include an exhibit room featuring a model of both the nuclear facility and the $20 million conventional steam plant; a 25-minute movie; observation galleries; tape-recorded descriptions of various plant units, and two full-time guides.

1,000 Tourists
Nearly 1,000 tourists have visited the plant in the past 4 weeks prior to completion of the public tour operation.

Testing progress at the giant nuclear facility has been "about on schedule," Dr. Jones said.

The plant, designed by Atomics International, was constructed with $51.3 million in Atomic Energy Commission funds and $5.8 million from Consumers.

CPPD's 100,000 - kilowatt conventional plant at Sheldon Station has been producing commercial power since mid-1961.

Consumers still has "a great deal of confidence" that commercial use may be made of the irradiation by-products from 75,000-kilowatt nuclear portion, Dr. Jones said.

Quizzed about safety aspects of the facility, Dr. Jones declared that he believes "the basic safety of the plant is a thousand or a million times greater for our operators than the drive from Lincoln."

Safety, he said, has been "a prime consideration, and we are confident there are no loopholes."

GOVERNOR OK'S MORRIS TO GET HASTINGS LAND

Gov Frank Morrison has authorized State Institutions director George Morris to initiate action seeking some Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot surplus land and buildings.

Morris said the west 5,500 acres and its many buildings sought for a proposed Nebraska Treatment and Training Center for Youth is opposite the east 10,000 acres declared surplus by General Services Administration.

Morris said a 197-acre section with 22 buildings at the west end of the east 10,000 acres would be desirable for the Institutions Department proposal.

He believes the 197 acres would not be especially desirable for University of Nebraska Agriculture College or U.S. Department of Agriculture research programs.

Two County Demos Resign Party Posts

Two officers of the Democratic county central committee resigned Thursday night.

They are Virginia Hall, vice chairwoman, and Mrs. Robert Van Neste, secretary. They are the only two female officers of the county unit.

County Chairman Don Grant said both "deserve the highest praise as excellent, devoted party workers." He will appoint successors later.

Mrs. Hall declined comment on the reason for her resignation.

Mrs. Van Neste said she "no longer has the time to devote to do a good job for the party as an officer," citing family responsibilities.

Grant "Sorry" Grant, who said he was "sorry to see them go," explained that he believes both resignations were prompted by their wishes for more time for personal business.

Mrs. Hall, he said, was very active in the party's telephone campaign, while Mrs. Van Neste was largely responsible for a successful State Fair booth. Both were active in planning the party's bean feed and in the ladies summer serenade, he said.

Other county officers are Norman Krivosha, vice chairman, and Richard Shugrue, treasurer.

Salt-Wahoo Dams Done

The first two dams of the Salt-Wahoo Watershed District project are "essentially complete," the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers announced Thursday prior to a final inspection tour.

Dams 4 and 8 have already impounded part of their permanent pools, the corps said. Twelve dams are planned in the project.

Dam 17 will be completed early next month.

Dam 8, near Hickman, has a permanent pool of 315 acres. Dam 4, near Sprague, will form a permanent pool of 325 acres.

The State Game, Forestation and Parks Commission has begun recreational development on the shores and is stocking fish. Both lakes will make use of recreational resources.

Officials Honor Mrs. Roosevelt

Washington (AP) — Officials and diplomats in Washington paused at noon Thursday to honor the memory of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Three Roosevelt sons — Franklin D. Jr., James and Elliott — sat in a front row for the hour-long service honoring their mother, who died Nov. 7 and was buried last Saturday beside her husband at Hyde Park, N.Y.

Many of the diplomats who filled one section of the cathedral served here when Mrs. Roosevelt was first lady.

"She was a woman who had no capacity for hate but much for indignation," Rusk said of Mrs. Roosevelt. "Her compassion was nothing passive; it led her to passionate words and deeds against poverty, disease, exploitation, prejudice, fear and oppression."

"One also thinks of her courage."

"Her colleagues stood in awe of her boundless energy."

"For her there was no place for discouragement, no thought of failure, no chance

Noted Designer Leaps To Her Death

Hollywood, Calif. (UPI) — Mrs. Irene Gibbons, famed as the "Irene" who designed clothes for movie stars and helped set fashion trends, leaped to her death Thursday from the 11th floor of a Hollywood hotel, police said.

"I'm sorry, this is the best way..." was the content of a note found in the room in which Mrs. Gibbons had registered Thursday morning. Detectives said the woman, owner of Irene Inc., had apparently tried to cut her wrists but decided instead to jump.

Irene designed clothes for such stars as Marlene Dietrich, Rosalind Russell, Claudette Colbert, Loretta Young, the late Carole Lombard, Ingrid Bergman, Paulette Goddard and June Allyson.

Only Tuesday, Mrs. Gibbons had put on display her latest fashion designs for the California fashion show in Beverly Hills.

"Anything new and beautiful makes one think beautiful thoughts," she told an interviewer at the time.

Irene Inc. manufactured women's clothing designed by Irene and her staff.

Police said Mrs. Gibbons had been despondent over business problems and her husband's ill health.

The network in both cases answered it would hold the corporations to the terms of their contracts.

Sydney, Australia (UPI) — Nylton P. Briscoe, 79, was burned to death here because of his modesty. Firemen rescued Briscoe after flames swept through his apartment house. But he died when he insisted on returning to his flaming flat to put on trousers.

LeRoy Collins, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said the program was within "the range of sound journalism."

Richard S. Salant, president of news at the Columbia Broadcasting System, said he was "deeply distressed at the pre-broadcast efforts to suppress any part of the Howard K. Smith broadcast and at the post-broadcast action by advertisers and others to punish ABC."

This is the economical Newport 4-door sedan

Small price for this full-size beauty that's warranted† for 5 years or 50,000 miles

$2964 is the Chrysler price that still surprises people. It's a price that includes a crisp, new, custom look. (Some call it the newest look in the business.) For this kind of money, you will enjoy wide, deep, comfortable seating for six. You get famed Unibody construction that's as solid as a safe—with no bolts to breed rattles.

More? Yes, more. For $2964 you get torsion-bar suspension—the kind that gives you sure, well-balanced handling. And interior fabrics that would cost you close to $10.00 a yard. Further, you get the assurance that your investment in a full-size Chrysler won't be undercut by a jr. edition bearing the Chrysler nameplate—we don't build them.

Top these many benefits with the fact that the power-train of every '63 Chrysler is warranted for 5 years or 50,000 miles (makes your Chrysler worth much more at trade-in time because the warranty holds good for the next owner, too). Ready to move to the big one with the small price? See your Chrysler dealer.

Morrison Promises G.I. Talk Text

Gov. Frank Morrison has promised to make available to news media a text of the speech he plans to give to a closed meeting of state Democratic Party leaders in Grand Island Sunday.

The governor declined to comment on the fact that Democratic National Committeeman Bernard Boyle of Omaha and Democratic State Chairman Russell Hanson of Newcastle were not invited to the meeting called by Mrs. Maurine Biegert of Shickley, Democratic national committeewoman from Nebraska.

Morrison and Mrs. Biegert have been aligned against Boyle and Hanson on a number of party issues including control of national democratic patronage in the state. Morrison refused to describe his differences with Boyle as a fight between party factions. He said Thursday that the Republican Party in Nebraska was more divided than the Democrats, pointing to his victory over Republican gubernatorial candidate Fred Seaton last week.

The governor said he intends to "throw out a challenge" concerning the future of the Democratic Party in Nebraska when he talks in Grand Island Sunday.

Briton Handed To Russians ... JAILED BY HUNGARIANS FOR SPYING

London (AP)—Britain reported Thursday night that a British businessman jailed by the Hungarians on spying charges has been handed over to Russia. Foreign Secretary Lord Home immediately protested to both communist countries.

The arrested Briton, Greville Maynard Wynne, was seized by the Hungarians Nov. 2 after entering their territory from Romania. A note from the Hungarian government asserted that as "the overwhelming majority of his (Wynne's) crimes were committed against the Soviet Union" he had been handed over to Soviet authorities.

The foreign office reacted swiftly. Home summoned the Hungarian minister, Bela Szilagyi, and Soviet Ambassador Alexander Soldatov, and handed them notes of protest.

A foreign office announcement said:

"Her majesty's minister in Budapest (Ivor Pink) has been informed by the Hungarian government that Mr. Wynne has been extradited to the competent Soviet authorities."

Wynne was in charge of a mobile film exhibition unit touring East Europe when arrested. He was understood to have traveled through a Soviet military zone. The Russians maintain lines of communication from their homeland through satellite territories to their forces in East Germany.

Around the time Wynne was in that sensitive part of East Europe big Soviet troop concentrations and movements were reported. This during the period of world tension touched off by the American-Soviet crisis over Cuba.

The implication of the foreign office announcement was that Wynne has been transferred from Budapest to the Soviet Union itself.

Faster Shelter Plan Outlined

... CITY, COUNTY CIVIL DEFENSE HELP ASKED

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Regional Civil Defense officials Thursday outlined an accelerated public fallout shelter preparedness program to city and county officials and asked for help in getting the job done.

Dave Harrison, CD field director from Denver, said the accelerated program resulted from a Defense Department Oct. 29 decision during the Cuban crisis.

The emergency program has been compressed into a 3-month time schedule, he said. Included is distribution of 10,000 boxcars of emergency supplies.

Priority has been given marking and supply-stocking of shelters in urban areas.

Harrison said Lincoln has 150 buildings rated for fallout protection, but only 52 have been marked so far. The total could provide protection for 127,000 persons.

He said the city is eligible to receive 804 tons of supplies, valued at $144,660.

This includes survival rations (Nebraskits), bottled water, first-aid supplies, sanitary equipment and radiation monitoring apparatus.

Local Responsibility

As is being done in other cities to speed up the program, Harrison urged local governmental agencies to assume responsibility for completing shelter licensing and marking.

The CD official also urged that the mayor and city council assign various duties to city departments in implementing the program.

Key fire and police department personnel would be given short-course training in shelter management and radiation monitoring.

Fire department personnel would aid the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense staff in distributing supplies to shelters.

Under present planning, Harrison said only the 82 buildings with the higher protection rating would be stockpiled, but the additional 78 buildings being designated as shelters would afford protection during the most critical 48 hours of nuclear fallout.

"The most rapid radiation decay rate is during the first 48 hours," he explained. "Avoid a lethal dose of radiation for two days and there can be opportunity for survival."

In other discussion, Harrison said rural Lancaster Countians are being urged to provide home shelters if they're far from public shelters.

He said a CD training program for architects and engineers is being initiated on improvisation of shelters in homes and small businesses.

Regional officials emphasized that local governments must be integrated into civil defense if the nation is to have a full-scale preparedness program.

Statewide Meet

A statewide assembly of school administrators and school administration professors will begin a 3-day meeting Sunday at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

Highlighting the conference will be an address by Dr. Paul A. Miller, recently appointed superintendent of the Omaha public school system. Dr. Miller, whose topic is "A Fullback in Education," will speak at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

An authority on satellite systems, Dr. Everett T. Wilmer of the Aerospace Corporation, will speak at the 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting Sunday.

Two men were treated by their private physicians for minor injuries suffered in a two-car collision at 18th and B Thursday noon, police reported.

Thomas V. Kaspar Jr., 20, of 1900 B, was eastbound on B, and Bradford A. Waggoner, 18, of 1845 D, was going south on 18th when their cars collided.

State Troopers Go In For That New Car Look

There'll soon be a new look in the cars driven by Nebraska Safety Patrolmen.

The patrol is abandoning the traditional black and white cruisers for all-white cars.

The new white cars will be issued as troopers turn in the old cars for replacement.

The switch is designed to serve 3 purposes:

1. The white cars should be cooler in the summer because white reflects heat better than black.
2. The white cars should have a higher re-sale value when sold off.
3. The white cars won't be as recognizable as the black and white cruisers, for a time at least.

First patrol cruisers were all black with golden emblems. In 1941 and 1942, white paint was applied to doors and hoods. Since then cruisers have been all black with white doors.

London (UPI)—The Soviet Union was reported by diplomatic sources Thursday to be pushing a frenzied off-stage bid for a Sino-Indian truce to avert an open showdown with its truculent Chinese communist ally.

The Soviet was understood to be pleading with Peking to compromise with India, instead of forcing the conflict to a possible point of no return.

Mowcow, which apparently failed to make headway in Peking by applying political and economic pressure, now was believed to be trying through persuasion.

The Soviet move was believed to have been prompted

WHICH HAM?

The cans look alike—but one canned ham costs more than the others. Read why the expensive one actually saves you money.

Sounds odd, of course. But it's what you don't get in the "Ham What Am" by Armour that makes this canned ham your best buy.

One pig in four

Of every four pigs that go to market, we reject three. Only the young, tender one can become your "Ham What Am."

First, figuring you don't want to pay for bones and skin, we remove them. Off comes the shank, too. It's good eating, but not good enough for your "Ham What Am."

Next the fat goes. We wouldn't want you paying for that, so we trim it off. Outside. And inside, too, where the bones used to be. We leave just enough fat to keep a clove from tipping over.

Then we cure your "Ham What Am" and smoke it. We use only hickory wood. Hickory, we've found, imparts exactly the smoky sweet flavor you like.

Lazy cooked

Finally, we vacuum pack your "Ham What Am" and cook it twice as slowly as you would at home. This soaks the natural juices right through the ham. And keeps it from shrinking in your oven. Now, you bake it up fancy.

Or, slice it cold, just as it comes from the can.

No waste

By now, you will have discovered why the "Ham What Am," although one of the most expensive hams to buy, will actually save you money.

The reason is, there's not a bit of waste. Every morsel of your "Ham What Am" is good eating—lean, tender, juicy—every single time. So pound for pound, portion for portion of meat, it isn't so expensive after all.

The "Ham What Am" comes in a size to fit your family: 1½, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10 lbs. Buy one tomorrow, serve it, and let your family decide if it wasn't worth every penny you paid for it. We expect they'll tell you you're a pretty smart buyer.

Freeman Announces Reorganization Of ASCS

The Lincoln Star 13
 Friday, November 16, 1962
 ADVERTISEMENT

Washington (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman announced Thursday a reorganization of the Agriculture Department designed to provide closer supervision of the agency's far-flung farm aid, crop control and price support programs.

The changes grew, in part, out of the Billie Sol Estes cotton allotment case.

Affected is the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the agency which administers the farm programs. It now costs about $200 million a year to operate this agency, including its system of state and county farmer committees.

Eliminate 3 Offices

The reorganization provides also for the elimination of commodity offices at Dallas, Cincinnati and Portland, Ore. Work done by these offices will be transferred to existing offices at Kansas City, Mo., Evanston, Ill., and Minneapolis. The present New Orleans office will continue as the cotton commodity office.

Officials said the reorganization is expected to result in no change in employment in Washington, but will bring some reduction in the commodity offices.

A Senate investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., criticized the department's organizational structure in its investigation of Estes' efforts to acquire valuable pooled cotton planting allotments in what the department has said was a violation of law.

Freeman said in a statement that the changes here will be designed to eliminate confusion and divided authority. He said a clear line of responsibility and authority will be established from his office down through the state and county committee offices to the individual farmer.

Under the old set-up, the formation of farm program was centered in one unit while administration was in another. Under the reorganization programs will be formulated by a policy staff working directly under Horace D. Godfrey, ASCS administrator, and will be carried out by a deputy administrator reporting directly to Godfrey.

Bowen Invites Every Citizen To Tax Meet

Sen. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud Thursday invited all citizens interested in state tax problems to attend the Legislative Council meeting at the Capitol Monday at 1:30 p.m. to hear the tax study report prepared by Dr. Harold F. McClelland.

An economics professor at Claremont College in California, Dr. McClelland was employed by the council's Tax Study Committee to survey Nebraska taxation matters as authorized by the 1961 Legislature.

Bowen, committee chairman, said Dr. McClelland will outline study findings to the council, and report his conclusions and recommendations.

Since the voluminous report was not done in time for thorough committee study prior to the council meeting, Bowen said it will not be able to make its recommendations until some time next month.

CHATTER in the CORRIDOR

By SANDIE LAW

Wednesday night, the halls of Lincoln Northeast were filled with happiness. The 1962-1963 varsity basketball cheerleaders were chosen by the student body. They are Pam Ailes, Jocelyn Dillow, Gail Jeffery, Jan Larson, Willa Lutes, Kay Shuman, and Linda Webster. Congratulations, girls! I know you will have a real good season.

Also in line of congratulations goes to Merlin Brodd, Stan Grell, and Brad Paulson for making the All-City team. Congratulations to Marty Jacobson and Jake Lee for honorable mention.

The Rocket team traveled to Fairbury, Friday, November 9 for the last game of the season. With many loyal fans supporting the team, we brought home a 7-0 victory.

Our football team, under the excellent coaching of Coach Art Bauer and assistant coach, Max Hester, finished the season with a record of seven wins to two losses and a fourth place ranking in the top ten in the state.

MEADOW LANE

As usual, Meadow Lane is busy with her visitors, bridge games, and weekend entertaining.

It will be a full house this weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kaelin for they are preparing for nine houseguests, and they already have one!

Mrs. Kaelin's mother, Mrs. Edna Ely, arrived yesterday, and will be a guest in the Kaelin home for a week before returning to her home in Broken Bow.

Expected tomorrow morning are Mr. Kaelin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kaelin from Ansley; his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Casteel and their children, Eddie and Shari, from Westerville; a cousin, Larry Hayes and Mrs. Hayes, who will come from Grand Island; and his brother, Max Kaelin, from Ansley.

The cause for the mass visit? — The football game, of course! Mr. and Mrs. Kaelin will be entertaining their visitors at a pre-game buffet, and a "quiet" evening at home will follow the game.

The guests all will leave Meadow Lane on Sunday.

Another visitor expected on Saturday is Miss Judy Rodefeld, who will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Art Krause and their 15-month-old daughter, Kimberly. Miss Rodefeld is from St. Louis, Mo., where she and Mrs. Krause attended high school together. The visit will be a reunion for the two former classmates, and we expect that there will be much reminiscing before Miss Rodefeld returns to St. Louis on Wednesday.

Capt. and Mrs. Anthony C. Agnone and their children, James, Toni, and Micky, have been a busy family for the past couple of weeks. Last week, they entertained Capt. and Mrs. Walter Nevil and their children, Terrie, Tracy, and Davey, during their week's visit in Lincoln. The Nevils returned to their home at Fort Bragg, N.C., on Friday, and the Angones left for Chicago, Ill., on Saturday.

In Chicago, Capt. and Mrs. Angone and their children visited Capt. Angone's mother, Mrs. Theresa Angone. Their stay in Chicago ended Wednesday.

And bridge news comes from Mrs. Sidney Kittrell who entertained at a small card party at her home last Monday evening. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Donald Kaelin, Mrs. Robert Harrington, and Mrs. S. Joseph Schroer.

EASTBOROUGH

From Eastborough comes a variety of news. On Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thompson returned to the neighborhood after a 17-day trip through Oklahoma and Texas.

Texas.

The first stop on their 17-day jaunt was right here in Nebraska, however. After leaving Lincoln late in October, they stopped in Scottsbluff for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter and their family, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Quinett, Lois and Phil Jr.

From Western Nebraska they headed toward the Lone Star State for a visit with a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thompson Jr. The junior Mr. and Mrs. Thompson live in Borger, Tex., and their son, Bill, is a junior right here at the University of Nebraska.

Oklahoma City, Okla. was the next stop as the Thompsons headed back towards Nebraska. In Oklahoma City they visited another son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Thompson and John Jr., Debbie, and Charles. They wound up their fall vacation there, and returned to Lincoln.

NFWC State Officers Meet

Reports of the recent district conventions of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs were presented Thursday afternoon at the opening session of the organization's executive board meeting at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Mrs. George W. Mechling of Lincoln, state president, presided at the meeting, which will continue through Friday morning and during which plans for the state convention in Lincoln, April 3 to 5, will be discussed. New district presidents attending the meeting are Mrs. Laurence Dillard of Blair, Second District; Mrs. Elmer Garber, Seward, Fourth District; and Mrs. T. J. Lockwood, Gering, Sixth District. From the left are Mrs. Garber, Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Dillard.

A birthday was celebrated twice this week at the Raymond Degenhardt home in Eastborough. Last Sunday, relatives and a friend of the family were on hand to help Master Danny Degenhardt celebrate his sixth birthday. Coming from Crete for the celebration was Danny's grandmother, Mrs. Therese Degenhardt, and his uncle, Jerry Degenhardt. Miss Lucille Daniel of Denton also took part in the birthday festivities, along with Danny's parents and sisters and brother, Joan, Alice, Carol, and David.

On Tuesday, several of Danny's kindergarten friends and neighbors gathered at the Degenhardt home to celebrate the special day. Guests enjoying the traditional birthday cake, ice cream, and games included Pat Spale, Vicki Johnson, Wayne Schoch, Rochelle and Scott Larson, Vernon and Gayle Brandt, and of course, Joan, Alice, Carol, and David.

We're guessing that this little man won't forget his sixth birthday!

He Might Trade Cook For 'Dish'

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you want to know why so many teen-aged marriages go on the rocks, just stand around a supermarket and see what the young wives put into their shopping carts. All you can see are TV dinners, frozen chicken pies and boxes of mixes. Anything that is easy and fast. Don't they teach girls in Home Economics how to cook a roast beef, leg of lamb, or how to make a fresh salad or bake a pie? No wonder young husbands don't come home for supper. Or else they run out "for a beer" and leave the young wives home with the babies.

OLD SCHOOL COOK
DEAR COOK: There are plenty of wives who can't boil water, and their husbands love them to death between attacks of heartburn and indigestion. Then there are wives whose cooking would win prizes, but their husbands are interested in other "dishes."

DEAR ABBY: I thought you printed all the letters sent to you. Where's my letter about the young grandmothers and old grandfathers? I signed it "LIKES TO LIVE." I am a regular reader of your column so I couldn't have missed it (signed) "LIKES TO LIVE."

DEAR LIKES: I cannot possibly print all the letters I receive. I select three each day. If you want a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(signed) "LIKES TO PLEASE"

DEAR ABBY: I don't know the rumor got started, but the girls at school told me that they heard my home life is terrible. Everyone is saying that my mother drinks and our home is messy and all sorts of other terrible lies. My parents are very nice people and they don't drink. No one wants to go around with me because of these rumors. How can I prove to these girls they are wrong?

DEAR UNHAPPY: Invite some of the cats to your home for a bowl of milk and a close-up of your family.

DEAR ABBY: After seeing all that stuff in your column about getting married on horseback, a cousin of mine did it in Iowa. I asked my boy friend if he would like to have the same kind of wedding and he said, "I'd rather be shod at sunrise." Isn't that great?

NEBRASKAN

DEAR ABBY: I am a faithful reader of your column. I also have your book DEAR TEEN-AGER and think so much of it I keep it right next to my Bible. Abby, I have something to say but no one wants to listen to a teen-ager. If you think it is worth space in your column, please print it. I know I am speaking for many other teenagers. It is advice to parents:

Dear Parents: Do you know how much you hurt your children when you argue and fight in front of us? Lately I have been crying myself to sleep to the noise of your fighting. I can't think straight in school because I worry about whether you will really get the divorce you threaten each other with. I am afraid to approach you with subjects I want to talk to you about because you are always in such a bad mood. Why can't you love each other now like you did when you got married? We didn't ask to be born. Now that we are here why don't you try to get along so we can have a happy home? If you have something to argue about, why don't you do it some time when your children can't hear you? You make me almost afraid to get married if this is what married life is like later on. I try hard to be a good, obedient and happy son. Won't you try to be a better parent?

BROKEN-HEARTED AT 15

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what you think about a 16-year-old buying her boyfriend a shirt that matches her blouse. He is 18 and we have been going together for about a year.

FAITHFUL READER
DEAR READER: Don't "surprise" him with it. Ask him first.

Why Grow Old?

Eat Right

Josephine Lowman

Don't give in to inertia, years and a matronly figure! Just a few exercises done every day and an eye on the calorie chart will give you a longer life expectancy and also a beautiful figure.

And do not make the mistake many women do and blame it on your glands! It is true that the glandular system begins slowing down at middle age, but overweight from forty on is usually due much more to decreased physical activity and too much food than to glandular deficiency.

EAT RIGHT

A woman must work harder to keep her figure from middle age on but she can retain control of it with exercise, less rich food and more vitamin and mineral-potent foods.

Women are likely to drop sports and dancing in which they have participated as their food budget increases, their meals may become richer, too, and they probably will entertain more. They may fail to replace sports with planned exercise and thus give in to the middle age spread.

STRETCHING IMPORTANT

Here is another Combination Exercise which will reduce the waist and diaphragm and pull fat off of the back. Kneel on both knees. Raise the arms overhead, one arm by each ear, head back slightly. Stretch upward, not only with the arms but by lifting the rib cage. Now bend forward touching the fingertips to the floor as far out in front of you as you can. Raise the trunk and arms upward again and stretch toward the ceiling.

This exercise should be done very slowly. The stretch is the important thing. Take time for it!

If you would like to have my Combination Exercises (which kill two figure faults stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Test Dummy Play

B. Jay Becker

TEST YOUR PLAY

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts, the bidding having been a heart by you as dealer, three hearts by partner, and four hearts by you. North leads the jack of clubs. How would you play the hand?

♠ K 8 6 3      ♠ A 7 2
♥ A Q 10 8 3 2      ♥ K J 9 4
♦ K J      ♦ 9 6 3
♣ 7      ♣ K Q 5

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Clubs. North leads the king of diamonds and continues with the ace. You ruff and play the ace of clubs, North showing out. How would you now play the hand?

♠ K Q      ♠ A J 7 4 3
♥ A 9 7 4 3      ♥ K 6
♦ 8      ♦ J 5
♣ A K Q 9 5      ♣ 10 7 6 2

1. The thing to fear is that South will shift to a low diamond after you've covered the jack of clubs with the queen and South has taken the ace. North may have the A-Q of diamonds and gobble up your K-J, or else you may guess wrong on whether to play the king or jack. In either case, you would later have to lose a spade trick and go down one.

However, there is a way of playing the hand that is practically sure to succeed. Duck the jack of clubs in dummy on the opening lead! (It is certainly reasonable to assume that South has the ace.)

Regardless of what North plays next, draw trumps, ending in dummy, and lead the kind of clubs, through South's ace. This permits you to discard a diamond on a club. All told, you lose a club, a diamond, and a spade. (You can ruff your fourth spade in dummy if the suit does not divide evenly.)

If South sees through your scheme and overtakes the jack of clubs, it will not help him one bit. In that case, dummy's K-Q become tricks on which you can discard two spades.

2. It would be dangerous to try to ruff hearts in dummy because South might be short in hearts and overruff. The best way to play the hand is to cash the K-Q of spades and next enter dummy with the king of hearts.

Then run dummy's spades. If South ruffs at any point, you overruff, draw trumps, and take the rest of the tricks. If South refuses to ruff, you take a trump finesse to make the contract. Of course, South may ruff either the king or queen of spades when you lead them, in which case you go down, but that is a much lesser risk to run than attempting to trump hearts in dummy.

Mrs. L. E. Hoover will be hostess to the members of Chapter BY, PEO, at her home, 1319 No. 38th., on Saturday. The program will follow a 1 o'clock salad luncheon.

Convention

A special meeting of the Licensed Practical Nurses, Division 3, was held recently to discuss plans and appoint committees for the state organization's spring convention, to be held in Lincoln, May 16 and 17.

Mrs. Ruth Snyder, state president, and Mrs. Arabelle Hanna, parliamentarian, both of Superior, attended the meeting.

POSTCARD by Sten Nilaplano

Am in the midst of a water-logged tour. Fogged in in San Francisco. Thunder storms from the Gulf to Panama.

For two days, tropical storms beat on the Isthmus of Panama. Five feet of water rose in the street—nothing much has changed since I came here as the brass-polishing pride of the American merchant marine. It rained just like this.

The Braniff plane doglegs down from Miami. The route avoids the direct route over Cuba and passes over Port-au-Prince in Haiti.

From 37,000 feet up, you can look down and see the lights of the American blockade ships—all lights turned on as if they were in port instead of at sea. Obviously to be obvious.

Every Brazilian flying to Rio, every Argentinean homing to Buenos Aires sees the blockade with his own eyes. It is a strong message down there on the warm Caribbean. As blunt as a "Keep Out" sign.

There has always been a good-natured, relaxed feeling about Panama. And when I was an important part of America's waterborne commerce—I polished the wheel and the compass binnacle and the portholes of the Captain's cabin; and when I was through, I started all over again—in those cheery, beery days, I couldn't wait to get here.

A seagoing engineer told me once: "Panama is all suds and Suzies."

The problem of integration has long been solved in this racial mixture.

The Canal was dug by black Jamaicans. (De Lesseps tried to dig it with Chinese. Malaria buried them a hundred to the mile and he gave up. When the mosquito was tagged as the carrier, we sprayed and dug and made it.)

The black and white problem was difficult. A number of men from important South American families were dark as a yard up a stovepipe.

The Canal Zone was run on the Southern "separate but equal facilities" basis.

They got around this by payroll semantics.

If you were dark-skinned but rated a "white" job, you were paid in American money—gold. If you didn't rate the job, they paid you in Panama money—silver.

That's all over now. But the blacks from Trinidad and Jamaica and Barbados and Grand Cayman left their mark on the town. They dug the Canal and stayed. A mixture of Spanish, African, Indian and a touch of American sailor.

It's quite a town.

You save your Butter-Nut Coffee key-strips and labels

All you do to join the Butter-Nut Christmas Club is save the key-strips from cans of Butter-Nut Coffee, and the labels from Instant Butter-Nut Coffee jars. Deposit them in the special Christmas Club container at your grocer's. Or mail as many as you can, postmarked before midnight, December 15th, to: Butter-Nut Christmas Club, 9th and Jones Streets, Omaha 8, Nebraska. Or contribute them to a local organization which collects them on a group basis. If you don't know of such a group in town, maybe you'd like to start one.

The Butter-Nut "Christmas Club" goes shopping...

for every kind of toy—airplanes... trucks and trains... dolls... skates, sleds... ten-gallon hats and little red wagons. The whole wide wonderland of toys... and tons of the treats that sweeten a child's Christmas—some of this kind, some of that kind, lots of all kinds of candy. There will be an individual gift and candy for each child.

31,000 homeless children have a happier Christmas!

Last year the Butter-Nut Christmas Club played Santa to over 31,000 children in almost 300 homes of all denominations in the 16 Butter-Nut states. Thanks to the encouragement of your ever-increasing numbers of key-strips and labels, the Club has expanded its activities more than 50-fold since it was founded 25 years ago. It hopes to expand even further this year. This inspiration of remembering homeless children came from an old Butter-Nut tradition. For years the roasters of Butter-Nut Coffee "kept Christmas" with gifts to the unfortunate children in the homes near their Omaha office. Then came the happy idea of spreading cheer all over Butter-Nut land. The Butter-Nut Christmas Club was founded in 1937. You were asked to join!

And you did! Key-strips and, later, Instant Coffee labels came into grocers and by mail; and then by sack, as groups started collecting them. We know you'll do it again this year. So thanks for remembering. Thanks for helping us make Christmas about 31,000 times merrier... for homeless children.

NOTE: If you mail keystrips, please wrap carefully and send Parcel Post.

Only Bowl That Intrigues Devaney Is Orange Type

By DON BRYANT
Star Sports Editor

There's only one bowl game that interests Nebraska football coach Bob Devaney at the moment — the Orange Bowl.

And that's why he is so concerned with Oklahoma State.

"We're trying to win the Big 8 championship and go to the Orange Bowl," Bob said Thursday in answer to a question about the possibility of bowl "feelers."

"But one thing is absolutely certain — we've got to beat Oklahoma State or there won't be any kind of bowl talk," Bob added.

In regard to the Orange Bowl, Bob said, "I think we can go if we win our next two games. But it's foolish to look beyond Oklahoma State."

"They (the Cowboys) can take it out of us quick because they're the kind of team that can give us or anyone trouble — with a fine balance between running and passing."

Devaney said he had not received any contact from any bowl, other than reading about Nebraska being mentioned on the Gator and Liberty bowl "scouting lists."

"Anything that would happen along that line would depend on the university and the squad," Bob said. "But there is no place for bowl talk until after the Oklahoma State game."

"Besides, we're still trying to win the Big 8."

Mike Eger can assist Devaney a great deal if the Huskers get any notions about underestimating the Cowboys and start dreaming about bowl activity this week.

The senior Husker end was on the 1958 Nebraska team—he dropped out of school, then re-entered to finish his eligibility — that upset Pittsburgh. Mike's the only Scarlet with firsthand knowledge about how quickly bowl dreams can be dashed.

Pittsburgh came to Lincoln with an Orange Bowl bid tucked safely in the hip pocket. All the Panthers had to do was get by Nebraska. So sure of victory and the $200,000 or so that would be theirs from the Orange Bowl that the Pitt publicist promised

Husker fans via television:

"Pitt coach John Michelosen has a great deal of respect for Nebraska and won't run up the score."

Needless to say, when the Cornhuskers knocked off the Panthers, 14-6, Pittsburgh stayed home on New Year's Day.

No Practice

The Huskers worked on their kicking game and pass defense Thursday, plus reviewing offense and defense for the Cowboys.

Devaney said there would be no practice Friday, with the usual limbering up session devoted to a squad meeting.

The Scarlets by-passed a Friday drill last week for the first time this fall. Oklahoma State is slated to workout at Memorial Stadium.

Field Covered

Memorial Stadium's sod was covered by canvass once again Thursday as the weatherman promised foul weather before a home game.

1922 MISSOURI VALLEY CHAMPIONS

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Likewise, I'm Sure

The Kansas line had nothing on me last week—we both took a fearsome battering.

Nebraska scrambled the Jayhawks and this corner got scrambled by upsets and flyers that didn't fly.

But the Point Blank did foresee the Husker win over Kansas—although from a more conservative angle—which is the main thing.

This week, Nebraska should win also—or should it? On paper, the Huskers appear stronger than Oklahoma State, but that's been the case the past two years. And, by the way, NU is still trying to log its first victory over the Cowboys and Cliff Speegle.

Once again banking on the Scarlets to realize the importance of another top-notch performance and the NU running attack which swung into high gear last week, I'll vote for the Cornhuskers. Make it: NEBRASKA 25, OKLAHOMA STATE 14.

I missed on 15 of 49 games last week for a sub-par .692 performance. The season mark is 267-97 for .733. As Satch Paige says, "Don't look back, something might be gaining on you."

★ ★ ★ NU Crowd Mark May Be Broken

The University of Nebraska football team may set an all-time season attendance record this fall.

In 8 games, the Huskers have drawn 303,000 fans.

About 35,000 are expected for Saturday's game against Oklahoma State in Lincoln, and the finale against Oklahoma at Norman could draw 62,000 if a championship is at stake.

That would bring the total to 400,000. The present record for a 10-game season is 396,147, set in 1956. The record for an 11-game season is 418,058 set in 1954, but this figure included the Orange Bowl attendance.

Although some crowds in past years were listed in excess of 39,000, a survey of Memorial Stadium seating showed the top crowd possible to be 37,760.

Home game receipts so far this year total $450,652 and this week's game should raise the figure to nearly $550,000, compared with $475,000 last year. Nebraska keeps one half of home game receipts.

Estimated guarantees from the 3 games played away from home total $162,000.

Valuable Daily Double

Pawtucket, R.I. (AP) — A $2 daily double ticket returned a whopping $1,348.20 to its investors at Narragansett Race Track Thursday when Chant O Mine won the first race and Double Hitter captured the second.

Tigers Near Finish

Sendai, Japan (AP) — The Detroit Tigers rallied for 3 runs in the eighth inning and defeated a squad of picked players from 3 Japanese teams 4-3 Thursday then left for Tokyo and the final 3 games of the good-will tour.

CASSIUS CALLS SHOT

—BOWLING GREEN'S REED—

College Cager Relates Fixes

New York (AP) — Dennis Williams (Billy) Reed, a former basketball star for Bowling Green, Ohio, State University, testified Thursday that Jack Molinas, former Columbia and pro basketball player, propositioned him to fix the points on 5 college games. He said two of the attempted dumps didn't work out.

Reed, a tall, slender New Yorker who said he had a full athletic scholarship at Bowling Green from 1958 to 1962, made the admissions in the trial of Molinas in the Criminal Part of Supreme Court. The case is being tried before Justice Joseph Sarafite and a jury.

Molinas is accused specifically of bribing Reed to fix 3 games in the 1959 and 1960 seasons. He also is charged with conspiring to fix 25 games involving 22 players from 12 colleges, and with subornation of perjury.

Earlier the scheduled sentencing of Aaron Wagman, another prosecution witness and admitted briber of college basketball players, on a guilty plea to bribery was postponed until Dec. 6 by Judge Sarafite. He could receive a 5-to-10-year jail term.

The 25-year-old Reed said he first met Molinas in August 1959 at a playground in the Riverdale section of New York. Later, he testified, Molinas "asked me if I would like to earn a little spending money by controlling the points in the basketball game the next day."

That was the Bowling Green-Michigan State game, Dec. 3, 1959, won by Michigan State by 29 points, 96-67. Reed said Molinas offered him $500 to control the points so that Bowling Green lost by 14 points or more.

Reed said he missed four shots and threw the ball away "on purpose, watching the scoreboard all the while."

He said Molinas offered him $1,000 each to "work" two other games in December 1959. Both "contracts" were fulfilled, Reed said.

★ ★ ★ Promoter Seeks Liston-Clay Bout

New York (UPI) — Harry Markson, director of boxing for the Madison Square Garden Corporation, announced Thursday night he hoped to have Cassius Clay fight Sonny Liston for Sonny's world heavyweight championship at New York's Yankee Stadium in June.

Markson said he and matchmaker Teddy Brenner will try to pair Clay with Billy Daniels of New York at the Miami Beach, Fla., Convention Hall on January 19. If Clay beats Daniels in this return bout, then the Garden men will try to match him with Liston in June.

When Markson was reminded that Liston is under contract to give Floyd Patterson a return title fight, Markson said, "We want Sonny in June after he beats Patterson again or after their return match falls through for any reason."

The witness said attempted fixes did not work out in two games in 1960. He said this happened in the Bowling Green-Detroit game on March 5, 1960. Bowling Green lost by three points, 71-68, but presumably the fixers wanted the team to lose by more.

The other case was the Bowling Green-Loyola of Chicago game on Feb. 29, 1960. Reed said Molinas wanted the game but Bowling Green won 73-61. Reed was hurt in this game.

Reed testified that before the DePaul-Bowling Green game on Dec. 10, 1959, one of the successful fixers, Molinas called him before the contest and said: "The white horses should lose by 3 points or more. He said there would be a dime for me."

★ ★ ★ Flattens Archie In Four Rounds

... CLAY'S 16TH WIN

Los Angeles (AP) — Cassius Clay, putting his gloves where his mouth was, knocked out the old mongOOSE, amazing Archie Moore, in 4 rounds — the exact round the cocky youngster had predicted — in their heavyweight fight Thursday night.

The end for Old Archie, the ring's most celebrated anti-que, began in the 3rd round, and the 20-year-old Clay finished him off after 1 minute, 35 seconds of the 4th in their scheduled 12-rounder.

As a capacity Sports Arena crowd estimated at 15,000 watched with a roar of amazement, the young Louisville, Ky., sensation literally hammered Old Archie into submission with a barrage of lefts and rights and ran his unbeaten string to 16.

A left and a right stunned Archie and floored him for the first of 3 knockdowns in the 4th. Moore was so hurt that he literally half-stood on his head trying to get up from the canvas.

The accurate lefts and rights of Clay again crashed through Archie's by-then feeble defense and he went down on the seat of his pants.

At each knockdown, Referee Tommy Hart reached the count of 8.

No Count
But the referee did not bother to count after Archie's 3rd trip to the floor.

"No single punch really knocked him out," said Hart before leaving the ring. "Cassius just poured the gloves into Moore and I knew he was through."

Clay weighed 204, the heaviest of his relatively brief career, which began soon after he won the light-heavyweight championship in the 1960 Olympic Games.

Moore, from San Diego, Calif., weighed 197 for this, his 220th ring appearance. This was only the 7th knock-out he has suffered.

Low Crouch
The Old MongOOSE, as Archie calls himself, quickly indicated the style he hoped would baffle youthful, good-looking Cassius. Moore fought in a low crouch, his arms wrapped around to protect his chin and jaw.

The defense worked reasonably well for two rounds and occasionally Archie managed to whip an overhand right or left to Clay's head and mid-section.

But Cassius, some 3 inches taller and with a much longer reach, was generally hard to find.

About midway in the 3rd round, Cassius smashed 3 good rights to the jaw and Archie, wobbling on his feet, backed into the ropes near Clay's corner. At the 10-second warning buzzer it looked as if Moore surely would fall and it took all his skill to last out the round.

Moore answered the bell for the 4th but it was obvious the Old Man, who has been in the fighting trade for some 30 years, was tired and headed for defeat.

Cassius was unmarked and apparently as fresh as he had been when the widely heralded match began.

The crowd had set up a roar when the bell opened the 4th. Cassius repeatedly and publicly had promised that "Moore must fall in 4"—and so he did.

NCAA's Byers Declares Coalition Info 'Misleading'

... STATEMENT PLANNED TODAY

Kansas City (AP)—Walter Byers, executive director of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, said Thursday night "a great deal of misleading and incorrect information has been circulated and published regarding the coalition plan" agreed upon between the NCAA and AAU.

Byers, declining to amplify at this time, said "we contemplate having a complete statement on the subject Friday."

Byers commented in regard to accounts of the coalition agreement that claimed one side or the other was a so-called "winner" in the 2½-year squabble over control of U.S. amateur sports.

No Plans
In New York Col. Don Hull of the AAU said he knew of no plans for a joint statement, but added:

"To say the NCAA-supported Track and Field Federation gave up is ridiculous. You can't stop there. They gave up something, we gave up something. When you have two groups in conflict which should be working shoulder to shoulder, each side has to give up something."

"There was no winner and no loser. The only winner would be the athletes. It was all accomplished in the best interests of the athletes, and, in fact, the country. You have only to look at the people who were at the meeting to understand that it is of importance to the country."

"Merger"
"First of all," said Chick Werner, head of the track and field federation, "it isn't a merger, it's a kind of merger and in a merger there are no winners and no losers."

"Each group is now waiting for ratification by their constituents of the coalition. Meanwhile, we're doing all we can to insure that the athletes aren't hurt. That is, all suspensions and penalties that might have been imposed are being delayed."

"Each side is displaying harmony and cooperation. Both are going ahead on the terms of the so-called coalition. Neither gained and neither lost face or stature in the coalition."

Speculation
"There are so many details that have to be worked out, we've been keeping a tight lip on it all to avoid confusion. There's a lot of speculation going on in the press, some saying this side won or lost, or that side gave up this or that. Most of it just isn't true."

Both Hull and Byers refused specific comment when the coalition plan was announced by Tug Wilson, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Committee, who had called the so-called "peace meeting" between the two groups at the urging of the government. Both said it had been agreed that no details would be announced at this time because of the many complications to be worked out.

Wilson's statement on Tuesday said:

"Preliminary agreement has been reached by the parties involved to set up a track and field coalition embracing all qualified organizations. The proposal is subject to ratification by the organizations involved. All these organizations will proceed with their programs which will be coordinated under the proposed coalition. Details are to be worked out later."

Commenting personally on the coalition, which would clear the way toward the United States fielding top representative teams for the Pan-American Games next year and the Olympics in Tokyo in 1964, Wilson told The Associated Press:

"All this means that I am very optimistic. For the first time we have all the groups interested in track and field working through their own organizations but working toward a common goal."

Syracuse Whips LA With Spree

Baltimore (AP)—The Syracuse Nationals went on a 23-point scoring spree during a 6-minute period of the third quarter and whipped the Los Angeles Lakers 120-98 in a National Basketball Association game Thursday night.

John Kerr, who led the Nats with 28 points, tallied 7 of them during the spurt which put Syracuse ahead 90-70 with three minutes to play in the quarter.

'Ain't I Beautiful'—Clay's Analysis Of Performance

Los Angeles (AP)—In the dressing room Clay gleefully challenged Liston to a title shot while Moore, battered and trying to keep back tears, conceded that he might be at the end of his long and fabulously successful career.

Clay, who was unmarked and talkative as ever, swagged back to his room, winking and slapping backs en route.

"Ain't I beautiful," he told a female admirer just before he stepped into his cubicle.

Young Cassius perched himself on a table and declared: "You just can't put a good old man against a good young man."

His brother, Rudy, chimed in after each declaration with "That's right, Cassius, you tell 'em."

"I'm the greatest," boasted Clay, "and I'm also the double greatest, 'cus I took him out in 4 just like I told you I would."

The sweet-punching Kentucky Babe with the unmarked profile said he thought Liston might last 8 rounds with him. Cassius told newsmen that Liston shook hands with him after the fight and quoted the champion as saying: "You go 8 seconds with me, and I'll give you the fight."

Clay's handlers cautioned him after making rash predictions, but the young fighter kept chattering: "If it was left up to me, I would fight Liston right now. I'll go put on my trunks and fight him right now."

Clay said he didn't let up for a minute during the fight and added pensively:

"I don't give myself so much credit for beating Moore. After all, he is an old man."

Archie had ugly welts on his forehead and cheeks, but his face was uncut and there was no blood. The gray-haired Old Warrior sat in his dressing room with his chin on his chest, his thick brown arms holding a towel around his waist.

Someone asked if Archie thought the defeat was the end of his ring career.

Tears welled in Moore's eyes for a second. For once in his life, Archie had trouble talking. As his jaw muscles worked with emotion he replied, in a thin, quivering voice: "I don't know. It just might."

"He was very impressive. He was everything I thought he wasn't. I'm not going to knock him. I've never knocked any man after a fight."

"He has a very good chance against Liston. If he can keep away from him, he will do all right."

"I wouldn't say he's the hardest puncher I ever fought but he keeps going, keeps buzzing, always keeps the pressure on."

"He has everything going for him... speed and the little thing named youth."

Long after Archie showed, Clay was still holding court and predicting that he might have to "knock out Liston in 4 or 6 rounds, instead of 8, if he don't keep his mouth shut."

His brother, Rudy, chorused, "That's right, Cassius, you're the greatest."

Transportation Tax Dies

Washington (UPI) — The federal government's 21-year-old transportation tax died Friday unopposed by the millions of plane, train and bus travelers who have paid more than $4.3 billion in extra fares since its 1941 inception.

Repeal becomes official at one minute after midnight.

For millions of passengers, repeal of the tax means lower-priced tickets—with train and intercity bus users benefiting the most. The last Congress killed the 10% tax for the surface carriers and airlines alike, but voted a 5% federal airways tax on all flights within the United States.

Repeal set-up this picture for travelers.

Trains — western and southern railroads are reducing fares 10%, but the 23 eastern lines plus the Chicago and Northwestern have been virtually assured of Interstate Commerce Commission permission to increase fares by the same 10%. They argued that substituting the 10% increase for the dead tax won't actually increase fares and at the same time would give their unprofitable passenger operations a healthy revenue injection.

State University's Changing Role Pointed Out By Hardin

The state university is more of a key factor in overall economic development of the state than ever before," University of Nebraska Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin declared Thursday.

Speaking at the 47th annual conference of the University's Agricultural Extension Service, Hardin said, "Some of the fastest growing areas in the country are those which have developed strong universities with a high standard of excellence.

"We need to utilize new approaches, techniques and concepts to carry out this new role of economic development to deal with the rapidly changing society in Nebraska," Dr. Hardin said.

"This changing role of the state university requires new approaches to work with various kinds of groups in our society. Among other things, we need to give greater total service. The program being carried out at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education is a new Extension approach in adult education. It is an example of the type of service we are providing to all segments of society.

Extension programs in the future will place more emphasis on how to use information rather than information per se, J. B. Claar, the University of Illinois associate Extension director, declared.

"Cooperative Extension programs will continue to change Continuing education can begin at higher levels as greater numbers of people have more formal education," Claar said.

"With their faces turned to the university as a source of information on the one hand, and to the indigenous needs of people on the other, the Cooperative Extension staff looks forward to helping extend the university to the citizens of the state."

Over-The-Road Drivers Balloting; May Leave Hoffa

Philadelphia (AP)—Truckers from 4 states, in perhaps the most serious attack on the leadership of Teamster chief James R. Hoffa, began voting Thursday on whether to remain in the independent Teamsters Union or re-join the AFL-CIO.

There have been successful teamster revolts against Hoffa in the past—such as those in Chicago and Cincinnati—but these involved taxi and dairy drivers.

Those voting here, in a police-guarded election continuing through 6 p.m. Sunday, were over-the-road freight drivers.

In the 1.7 million-member Teamsters, these long-distance freight drivers are regarded as the cornerstone of Hoffa's strength. This is the first time any over-the-road drivers have been involved in a try to switch to the AFL-CIO.

Adenauer Coalition Is In Peril

... He Phones Bonn

Bonn (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made a trans-Atlantic telephone call from Washington Thursday night in a bid to save his coalition government from collapse, highly authoritative sources said.

The sources said Adenauer interrupted his talks with President Kennedy and other U.S. officials on a dramatic attempt to prevent the Free Democratic Party (FDP) from pulling out of his coalition cabinet.

The free Democrats — junior partners in the coalition with Adenauer's larger Christian Democratic Party — earlier Thursday night threatened to quit unless Adenauer ousts Defense Minister Franz-Josef Strauss.

Sources said Adenauer offered to meet FDP leaders to discuss the issue just as soon as he flies home Saturday morning.

Only 10 days ago, Adenauer managed to save his coalition by overcoming an FDP threat to walk out.

RESERVISTS

'IN' TILL AFTER CHRISTMAS

Washington (AP) — The 14,000 Air Force reservists called to active duty at the outset of the Cuban crisis apparently still will be in service Christmas.

A Defense Department spokesman said in answer to a question that he knew of no plan to release the reservists by then. Although brought to active duty, the men have remained at home bases so far.

They are members of transport units apparently called for use in case of heavy troop movements.

LUTHERAN GROUP VOTES TO REMAIN A SINGLE BODY

Chicago (AP) — After opening on a note of doctrinal controversy, the Lutheran Synodical Conference has voted to continue as a single body.

By a margin of 177-53, the conference voted to continue after considering two resolutions to dissolve because of doctrinal differences among the 4 constituent synods.

The Evangelical Lutheran Synod (Norwegian) and the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod have suspended fellowship with the Missouri Synod. The Evangelical Lutheran Churches (Slovak) Synod is the fourth group.

The conference was formed in 1872 to carry out joint missions, welfare, publications and other projects.

Peabody Is Victor

... In Massachusetts

Boston (AP) — Official returns confirmed Thursday that Democrat Endicott (Hub) Peabody defeated the Republican incumbent, John A. Volpe, in their contest for governor of Massachusetts.

The official count of the votes cast Nov. 6 gave Peabody 1,051,653 to 1,048,562 for Volpe.

Peabody's winning margin was 3,091 votes.

Both Volpe and Peabody were prepared to demand a statewide recount.

The returns compiled Thursday were received from the state's 351 municipalities by Secretary of State Kevin White and canvassed by the executive council which employed a crew of bank examiners.

ROME BATTERED BY FLASH FLOODS

Rome (AP) — Torrential rains brought flash floods Thursday to low-lying areas on the outskirts of Rome, driving hundreds from their homes.

In the Tiber River Valley between Rome and Viterbo to the north, hundreds of acres of farm land were under water. Railroad and highway communications from Rome north were cut in several places by landslides. But these were quickly cleared.

Fibbing Youth Gets 30 Days On No Permit

A 17-year-old Lincoln youth was sentenced to 30 days in jail Thursday and told not to operate a motor vehicle for one year, after he was found driving a car Wednesday night on a suspended driver's license.

The boy was clocked by radar at 70th and Vine, and was told to pull over to the side of the road by an officer who was writing a ticket on another driver, police said.

The youth stopped his car and when the officer went to it to write a speeding ticket, the officer found he had fled.

The boy then went to a service station and phoned the police station saying someone had stolen his car.

He requested that an officer meet him at the Northeast High School parking lot, and said the car was stolen from that location.

The officer did not believe him and took him to headquarters for further questioning.

The youth later admitted he had lied and was driving the car himself.

Seventy-five Lincoln high school students will attend an Introduction to Teaching Conference Saturday at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

The conference is sponsored by the Capital City Kiwanis Club with assistance from Wesleyan and Student Education Association chapters from Wesleyan and the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Larry Vaughn, chairman of the Wesleyan education department, said the conference is aimed at recruiting high-caliber high school students into teaching.

Dr. Joe Liggit, director of guidance services, State Department of Education, will keynote the session at 8:30 a.m. His topic: "The Teaching Profession as a Career."

Burney, Bonner Give Cash Report

Republican Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney of Hartington reported Thursday he spent $847 in his recent successful campaign for re-election.

At the same time, Democrat Thomas Bonner of Omaha, unsuccessful candidate for Congress in the Second District, told the secretary of state's office that all expenses for his campaign were handled through the "Bonner for Congress Committee."

Two expense reports were filed for State Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha, 9th District legislator. Russillo reported personal expenses of $615, while John H. Maenner, treasurer of "Friends of Russillo Committee," reported expenses of $2,435 in Russillo's behalf.

Expense reports filed by other legislative candidates with the secretary of state:

Larry E. Welch of Omaha, 9th District, $1,104.
Elmer Wallway of Emerson, 13th District, $503.
Thomas Darrow of Beatrice, 21st District, $100.
Richard W. Weichman of Fremont, 11th District, $870.
Arnold Runkle of Plymouth, 22nd District, $200.
C. C. Lillibridge of Crete, 22nd District, $160.
C. C. Stollinski of Omaha, 8th District, $476.
Jack Romans of Ord, 29th District, $543.
